German Garrison Ignores Allies' Demand For Surrender

Huge Air Raid Made Close To Jap Homeland

Report 58 Jap Vessels Are

Raid On Ryukyu

DESTROY SOME 89 JAPANESE PLANES

By RICHARD V. HALLER
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

PEARL HARBOR, Oct. 11.—Japanese defenses in the Ryukyu Island chain within 280 miles of the enemy homeland lay shattered today in the wake of a blistering raid by American carrier-based planes which sank, probably sank, or damaged 58 enemy vessels and destroyed 89 enemy airplanes.

Of the 58 ships struck by the American warbirds in their closest penetration to the Japanese homeland, 38 were larger type ships with the remainder of the total being made up of barges and other small craft.

A Pacific fleet headquarters communiqué disclosing the devastating strike at the southern defenses of the enemy homeland failed to mention the number of planes participating in the attack but the Japanese Domei agency in a wireless dispatch recorded by the federal communications commission said that 400 American carrier-based aircraft carried out the raids in four waves from 7 a. m. to mid-afternoon Monday.

The Jap report claimed that "more than 26 of the enemy planes" had been shot down while Pacific fleet headquarters said that American losses were light and that no damage had been done to United States surface ships.

List Of Victims

Of the 38 major Japanese ships hit, Pacific fleet headquarters listed the following as definitely sunk: One destroyer, one mine sweeper, one submarine tender, two medium cargo ships, two small cargo ships and five coastal cargo ships. Ships probably sunk were: two medium cargo vessels, four small cargo ships, one medium oil tanker and seven coastal cargo ships. Ships damaged were: three medium cargo vessels, six small cargo ships, one destroyer, and two small oil tankers.

PA NEWC Observes

Just about a month from yesterday will be election day. The campaign promises to be interesting between now and balloting day.

PA News noted one pile of leaves being burned in a city street recently. Repeated warnings have been given about burning leaves on any of the streets with blacktop surfaces.

A soldier en route on furlough from camp in South Carolina to his home in Cleveland reported good hitchhiking when he stopped off here for lunch. He had left Johnston at 8:30 a. m. and was in New Castle before 11:30 thanks to an agile thumb and accommodating drivers. He expected to reach Cleveland by 3 o'clock via the "Hitchhike System."

May sound funny but it's true—a good-sized boat went through Washington street about nine o'clock Tuesday evening. It was probably 30 feet in length, a cabin type of tug boat or yacht. It was being hauled overland in one of the type of trailer trucks that formerly hauled new autos, and was moving west through the city.

Demands On Aachen Will Be Repeated In March Into Germany

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
(Written Especially For International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The first application of the totally all-encompassing "unconditional surrender" policy of the Allies has been imposed on the German city of Aachen.

Whether the trapped, defeated Nazi garrison surrenders or not, when the time limit expires today, we may expect to see the same demands applied during the Allied march straight through to Berlin.

German ideology recognized only the might of strength and superior force. The German war lords had planned to force the entire world to surrender unconditionally and then they planned to enslave the peoples of this earth.

Demand Is Humane

Comparatively, the Allied "unconditional surrender" demand is humane. The United Nations desire the extermination of Hitler, Nazism and the Prussian military cult, but they do not vision enslavement of the German people after they have been defeated.

Canadians Close Only Escape Route Of 21,000 Germans

By DESMOND TIGHE
(Reuters Special Correspondent)

WITH 21ST ARMY GROUP HEADQUARTERS, Oct. 11.—Canadian forces at midnight cut the bottleneck separating Walcheren and South Beveland from the Dutch mainland and closed the only escape route of the 21,000 Germans in the Scheldt estuary.

The Canadians in the pocket on the Leopold canal are still holding their ground against very strong opposition.

Advance 1000 Yards

The Germans already have thrown 30 counter-attacks against this bridgehead.

Just south of the Savoy outlet Canadian troops advanced 1,000 yards in very stiff fighting.

The seaborne forces who landed on the Scheldt estuary behind the Leopold canal have been reinforced and operations are proceeding according to plan.

Von Rundstedt, who is taking the threat to Walcheren and South Beveland seriously, threw in infantry counter-attacks for 48 hours running in a desperate effort to prevent the Canadians from cutting the lifeline to the islands, but the Canadians are now sitting on the causeway.

Verona Bombed During Night

(BULLETIN)
ROME, Oct. 11.—(INS)—The Nazi-occupied communications center of Verona in northern Italy was subjected to a concentrated Allied aerial attack during the night, an official communiqué said.

The railway marshalling yards at Verona were said to have been severely crippled.

Weather yesterday restricted the operations radius of the Mediterranean air forces but 800 heavy, light and fighter-bombers and fighters carried out various missions.

Assaults were made against targets in the Po Valley, the battle area and against key communications points.

Coastal aircraft swept the Yugoslav coast to attack shipping in the Adriatic.

Final Assault On Dunkerque Now In Progress

(BULLETIN)
LONDON, Oct. 11.—(INS)—A final all-out assault by Allied aircraft and Canadian artillery batteries to blast the Nazi hold-out garrison at Dunkerque into submission was believed in progress today.

Residents of English southeast towns reported that terrific explosions came from the vicinity of Dunkerque during the night. Numerous English localities, particularly Deal, were shaken by the blasts. Witnesses said vivid flashes were visible across the Channel.

The explosions continued to emanate from the Dunkerque area after daylight. Some of the blasts, it was believed, may have resulted from further demolitions by the Nazis.

German City Across Frontier From Lithuania Is Reported Under Fire

RED FORCES CLOSE IN ON RIGA NOW

By NATALIA RENE
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Oct. 11.—Russian heavy artillery batteries were reported today to have opened fire on the German city of Tilsit, in East Prussia just across the frontier from Lithuania.

The shelling of Tilsit was reported in a front dispatch as Soviet forces smashing through Lithuania developed their offensive north of Memel after shelling the Baltic coast to isolate an estimated 100,000 Nazi troops in the area of Riga, Latvia.

Other Russian legions closed to within nine miles of the Latvian capital as the Red army liberated more than 260 towns and villages in the Baltic offensive, while far to the south Soviet assault units smashing through Hungary stormed into the outskirts of Debrecen, important communications center in northeastern Hungary.

Some Of Nazi Force At Aachen Is Giving Up

(Editor's Note: The following eyewitness dispatch on the situation at Aachen has been received from Richard Tregaskis, International News Service war correspondent with the American first army.)

By RICHARD TREGASKIS (U.S. Staff Correspondent)

A COMMAND POST SOUTH OF AACHEN, Oct. 11.—The ultimatum served by American forces on the population of Aachen yesterday bore only meager fruit today and artillery and aircraft launched a terrific attack on the city's defenses.

There was no surrender of Aachen by the city's military commandant at the time the ultimatum expired.

However, about 200 German soldiers had come in by 4 o'clock this afternoon—including the officer who had played host to the ultimatum party yesterday and most of his company.

Meanwhile, Thunderbolt and Lightning fighter-bombers have been blasting the city after it failed to surrender and artillery is beginning a terrific pasting.

Appreciation Expressed

ALLIES ROUND UP UNFRIENDLY GERMANS IN UBACH

German civilians in Ubach, Germany, one of the points of penetration in the Aachen area battle, are shown being taken prisoner by the advancing Allied invaders when they proved their unfriendliness to our forces. Many of the women prisoners were found hiding machine guns in their homes and had pistols in their possession. They are being taken to a prison camp. Signal Corps Radiophoto.

Cologne Again Heavily Bombed

LONDON, Oct. 11.—(INS)—The German industrial city of Cologne, 30 miles east of American army spearheads inside the Reich, was blasted during the night by block-buster bombs from R. A. F. Mosquitoes, the Air Ministry said today.

Other objectives in western Germany also were battered. None of the British craft was lost.

Albanian Coast Port Of Sarande Taken By Allies

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

ROME, Oct. 11.—The Port of Sarande, on the Albanian coast 10 miles from the island of Corfu, fell into Allied hands today after a fierce slugfest in which 500 Nazi troops were taken prisoners.

Mopping up operations were in progress at Sarande as the entire Albanian drive gained momentum following seizure of the port.

The town of Gjiashide, a few miles inland, also fell to the Allied advance.

Capture of Sarande and Gjiashide gave the Allies a strategic bridgehead from which they may springboard a larger-scale offensive.

Pressure Increases

Indications were that increased pressure would be brought against the Germans from the Sarande-Gjiashide area as soon as additional Allied troops are landed.

The assault against the vital port area at Sarande began with British destroyers and gunboats spearheading the way by blasting Nazi troop concentrations and gun positions on the Albanian mainland. The naval bombardment was described officially as "effective."

The enemy situation in Athens, meanwhile, became virtually untenable with the Greek Peloponnese firmly in control of British troops.

With British patrol operations aimed in direction of the city, Athens was being hastily evacuated by the Nazis.

Military observers pointed out, in this connection, that Athens would be tactically difficult to hold even without any Allied offensive smashing toward that area.

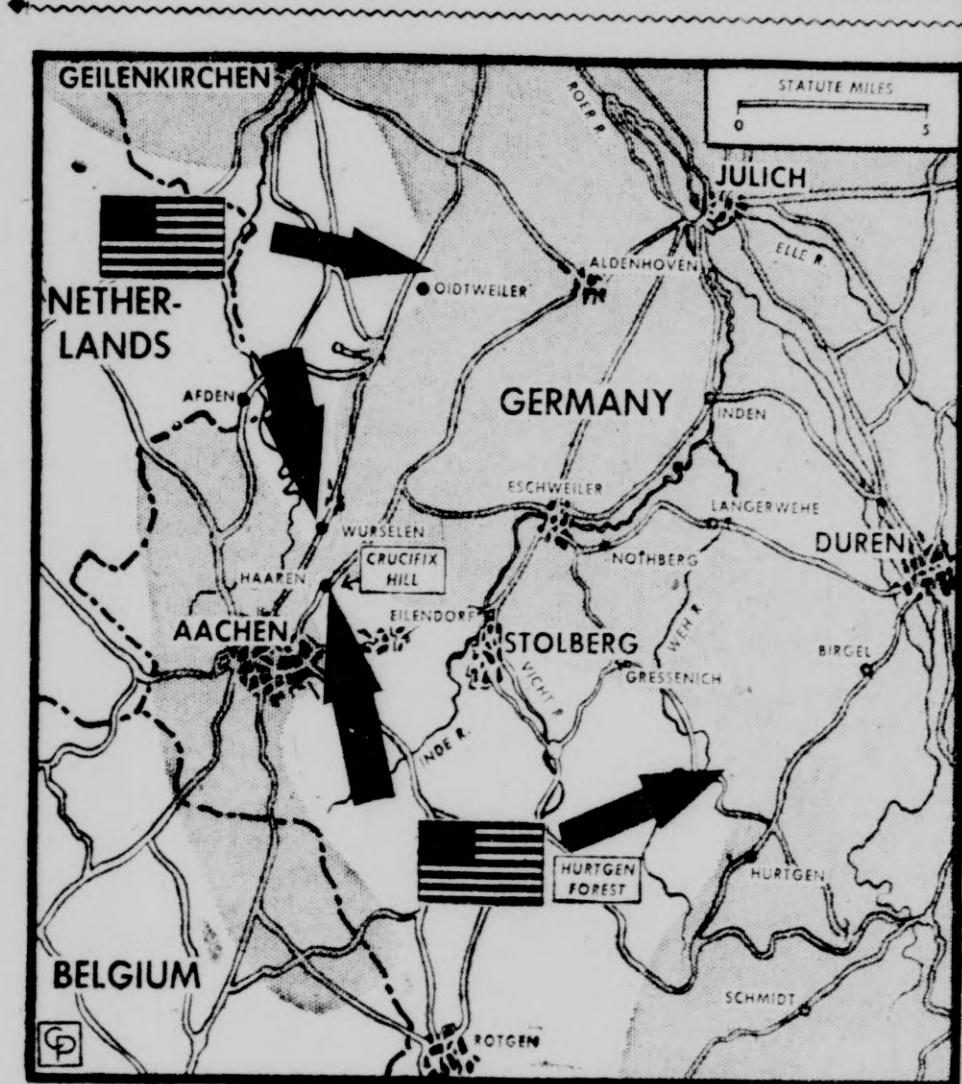

Eleanor Observing Her 60th Birthday

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(INS)—Two noted people—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Chief Justice Harlan Fiske Stone of the supreme court—are observing their birthdays in Washington today.

Mrs. Roosevelt is 60 and Stone is 72. Both have no plans for celebrating the day of their birth.

The chief justice, who avoids birthday celebrations, was to sit on the bench during four hours of oral arguments in cases before the high tribunal. In apparent fine health, he is expected to retain his post for an indefinite period.

CIRCLING YANKS CUT NAZI ESCAPE

Aachen is shaking under an assault by American forces who have cut all main roads, narrowing the escape route to a shell-raked mile. Some U. S. units have fought into the northern outskirts of the German frontier industrial city of 165,000 population, now reduced to ruins and a shambles. Attack on the city was resumed today when the Nazi garrison of 1,500 rejected a demand for surrender. At the same time, the great drive of the U. S. First Army rolled on toward the heart of Hitler's war potential in the Rhur and Rhineland.

Yanks At Front Cease Speculation On European War

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—American soldiers have largely ceased speculating about the end of the war in Europe, a group of congressmen just returned from France disclosed today.

"They're too busy fighting," commented Rep. Stockman (R-Ore.).

"They're making no speculations at all," asserted Rep. Hays (D-Ark.). "The unanimous opinion was that there was hard fighting ahead."

Rep. Miller (R-Nebr.) remarked that whereas soldiers formerly talked of the war ending in October, they spoke now of "by the end of the year" if they made any predictions at all.

There's a rather cautious type of optimism," stated Rep. Xisler (D-Tex.), but I heard very few predictions of when the war would end."

Feel End Approaching
They feel that the end of the war is approaching," added Rep. Phillips (R-Calif.). "But as to when it's going to be—well, you pay your money and you take your choice."

"Hopeful that the war would end this year," was the way Rep. Poage (D-Tex.) described it.

"The closer you get to the front, the more you realize what a grim struggle is on," declared Miller.

There was a spirit of confidence among the men," disclosed Fisher, "and the hope that victory would come soon."

There was less optimism expressed among the soldiers about the end (Continued on Page Two)

DEATH PENALTY FOR CRITICISM OF NAZI DEFENSE

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(INS)—Admitting heavy German losses and lack of discipline in the high command, Nazi Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler has threatened to shoot Hitler's soldiers who open their mouth against the fanatical defense of the Reich, according to the American broadcasting station in Europe in a message reported today by CBS.

CBS quoted the ASSIE as follows: "Speaking to German officer candidates, Himmler said he found that the higher the rank the less obedience and the greater the subtleties, excuses and contradictions."

WHITE FLAGS ON SOME OF HOUSES

(BULLETIN)

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Oct. 11.—American artillery and aerial assaults upon the defense of Aachen were resumed today when the German garrison commander ignored an ultimatum demanding unconditional surrender by 10:50 a. m. (5:50 a. m. E.W.T.).

The garrison at Aachen, one of Germany's oldest cities, was brought under shell-fire and the outer defenses were attacked from the air throughout the entire day.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, France, Oct. 11.—All-out American artillery and ground attack upon the ancient German city of Aachen was resumed today when the Nazi garrison commander ignored an ultimatum demanding unconditional surrender by 10:50 a. m. (5:50 a. m. E. W. T.)

A brief official announcement from supreme headquarters said: "There was no reply from the German garrison at Aachen to the Allied ultimatum demanding that it surrender and the attack on the city has been resumed."

Believe Garrison Reinforced
A London broadcast heard by CBS said it was believed the German garrison at Aachen now has been reinforced beyond its original nucleus of about 1,500 SS men.

The Nazi DNB agency reported in a wireless dispatch that the German commander in beleaguered Aachen, first large German city to come under siege, had refused to comply with the American demand for unconditional surrender.

At supreme headquarters it was said that there was no information whether the assault against Aachen had started following the expiration (Continued on Page Two)

Judith Barnett Dies In Ellwood City After Being Struck By Auto

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 11.—Judith Barnett, aged 6 years, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Barnett, of 426 Pittsburgh Circle, was fatally injured when struck by an automobile driven by Miss Martha Jean Newton of 308 Foch street, at the intersection of Fourth street and Lawrence avenue, about 5 o'clock Tuesday evening. She died about two hours later in the Ellwood City hospital.

According to Miss Newton's story as related to Ellwood City police and Deputy Coroner Peter Rupp, Miss Newton was turning off Fourth street into Lawrence avenue, and was traveling at a very low rate of speed. She said she did not see the child, who apparently stepped from behind a truck proceeding along Lawrence avenue in the regular line of traffic. A witness (Continued on Page Two)

Halmaheras Are Again Smashed By U. S. Bombers

By FRANK ROBERTSON

GEN. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR'S HQ, New Guinea, Oct. 11.—Combined operations by U. S. fighter planes and light naval units smashed Jap ground and coastal targets in the northern Halmaheras, setting fire to 18 enemy barges, setting fire to supply dumps and battering vital roads and motor transport. Gen. Douglas MacArthur reacted today.

Fighter bombers and patrol planes lashed at other enemy targets in the northern Celebes, and at Ceram in the lower Moluccas.

County Oil Dealers Meet

Discuss Problems And Elect Officers At Meeting At The Castleton

Lawrence county division, Associated Petroleum Industries of Pennsylvania, met today at The Castleton hotel to elect officers and to discuss problems of special interest to highway users of the county.

"The oil men of this county have been solidly organized for several years as a unit of the state-wide organization," stated Theo Speck, chairman of the county group. "We have always acted in the interest of our automotive customers who pay a staggering load of taxes, state and federal. Today our interest in highways is greater than ever, for war has brought home to America how vital highway transportation is to our economic well being."

"The post-war period will bring many new problems to the highway user. During the past two years the normal program of highway construction has been sharply restricted on account of shortages of materials and manpower and it is evident that in the immediate post-war period our highway program must be accelerated to restore our standards. At the same time, this must be accomplished under a financial plan that will not add further to the heavy tax burden to which the highway user is now subjected."

"One objective that must be accomplished is the dedication of all taxes assessed against the motorist to highway use. Fourteen states now have constitutional amendments prohibiting the diversion of motor fund monies to any other purpose and our states already have taken the initial steps to secure the adoption of this principle in 1945. It is imperative that this proposal be accepted and our constitutional amendment adopted."

Officers Named

At the meeting, the following officers were elected for 1944-45: Chairman, E. C. Wadding; vice-chairman, James L. Evans and Joseph H. Hovell; secretary, H. L. Scheuenschberg, all of New Castle. Committee chairman were named as follows:

Legislative committee—Chairman, William Milson; vice chairman, James E. Hinish, both of New Castle.

Local affairs committee—Chairman, R. L. Hartman, New Castle; vice-chairman, Clyde Hill, Ellwood City.

Public relations committee—Chairman, W. O. Kerr, New Wilmington; vice-chairman, J. Nelson Runyan, Ellwood City.

AMERICANS ARE AGAIN POUNDING CITY OF AACHEN

White Flags On Houses

A desire of the populace remaining in Aachen to capitulate was signified by the appearance of white flags on some houses but the German army garrison did not comply. The residents of nearby villages entered by the Americans previously had indicated willingness to surrender by flying sheets or white flags from their homes.

As the hour for surrender came and went, the First Army troops commanded by Lieut. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges practically closed the narrow escape gap out of Aachen. It was believed that within the next few days Aachen may be completely leveled unless the German garrison surrenders.

While the majority of the civilian residents had already evacuated, headquarters said that another 100 civilians and some German troops had passed through Allied lines from Aachen after delivery of the ultimatum.

Capture Towns

Prior to issuance of the surrender ultimatum, American forces closing in on Aachen captured Scharfenberg and advanced to Wurselen.

Other units reached Haren and cut the main Aachen-Cologne highway and proceeded to mop up remaining Nazi elements in the northern part of Haren.

German counter-attacks against Crucifix Hill and in the area of Bardenberg were repulsed.

Below Aachen, the First Army made progress in hard fighting southwest of Herten. There was aerial activity and sporadic artillery fire in the frontier area near Monschau.

On the Third Army front, Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's troops engaged in house-to-house fighting in Maizeires-Les-Metz, and advanced 1,500 yards in the forest of Parroy east of Lunelville.

East of England the Seventh Army improved positions despite increased German artillery fire.

The fiercest kind of fighting was in progress on the entire front around Le Thillot, near Belfort where French troops established a strong bridgehead over the Moselle river against heavy Nazi resistance.

The Germans suffered considerable losses. Some 200 dead and 150 prisoners were counted so far.

U. S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman offered a toast to both Great Britain and Russia, pointing out that their determined fight against Nazism gave the United States time in which to prepare for war.

Stalin, meanwhile, recalled that Russia also was not prepared for the conflict regardless of its compulsory military service laws and large standing armies.

Stalin finally predicted that the American-Anglo-Russian allies would not be unprepared in the future.

He then offered a toast to the proposed international security organization, as outlined at the Dumbarton Oaks conference.

dromes in continued neutralization raids, setting fires in Jap ground positions.

In the Celebes, night patrol bombers struck savagely at bomb targets Manado, kindling fires which were seen for 40 miles.

Japs Make Raid

Two Jap bombers raided American positions on Morotai island during the night, causing minor casualties. One of the Jap planes was brought down by Yank anti-aircraft fire.

American heavy bombers roared over Timor, hurling 66 tons of high explosives on enemy installations at the Kupang waterfront and in the surrounding area. Patrol bombers lashed at Fulora and struck minor targets in the Tenimber group. The Americans lost one plane to ground fire over the Kupang area.

Medium, light and fighter bombers operating over western New Guinea maintained attacks on enemy installations and airdromes, destroying buildings and starting large fires. Thirty-three tons of high explosives were dropped on New Guinea targets in widespread attacks.

Medium and light bombardment units struck at Jap positions on New Ireland with 37 tons of bombs. Other bombers supplemented by surface fire from light naval units, harassed enemy areas on Bougainville.

Honesty—Loss Of Money Belt Gets Lad Fine Reward

Honesty—a word that means much to being a successful person, was spelled out in BIG letters today to a gentleman and lifelong resident of New Castle, who is grateful to a young lad for having such an amount of quality in turning in a lost money belt with several hundred dollars. The chap has the makings of a fine and upstanding citizen.

In Tuesday's New Castle News an advertisement was placed in the classified section, for a lost money belt that contained a considerable amount of money. The gentleman, being a bit up in years, felt as though the bottom of the world had dropped out from under him in his loss. This morning, he backtracked to the various places he had stopped yesterday, and found that a lad in a downtown place of business, had found the belt and turned it in to his manager. It was kept in the safe, and this morning, returned to the gentleman in spirit, ambitious and a hard worker, the lad who is much alone in the world with his parents being gone, was left a liberal reward for his honesty. It being his day off, however, he isn't yet aware of the lost property being returned to the owner. He will not only have a pleasant surprise when he reports on the job in the morning, but he will also be thanked personally, by the one who advertised.

Four Meet Death In Crash Of Auto

Two Smith College Girls, Two Amherst Men Killed; Five Others Injured

HADLEY, Mass., Oct. 11.—(INS)—Two Smith college girls and two Amherst students were killed and five other students suffered critical injuries, police reported today, when the automobile in which all nine were riding crashed into a railroad underpass.

The accident occurred as the group rushed to make a five-minute deadline to return the girls to their Smith college dormitory by 10 p. m. last night.

The dead were identified as Charles E. Ayres, Jr., Worcester, Mass.; Horton H. Grant, Enclino, Calif.; Dona Payne, Mount Vernon, N. Y.; and Jane H. Hensfield, Mass. The injured were Robert L. Howard, Walpole, Mass.; John Patrick, Montclair, N. J.; Howard S. Stein, New York; Peggy Tannenbaum, Far Rockaway, N. Y.; and Mary E. Dickinson, Short Hills, N. J.

DEMANDS ON AACHEN WILL BE REPEATED IN MARCH INTO GERMANY

wards. True, there must be a super strict control, but not enslavement.

The Allied demand of the city of Aachen to surrender within 24 hours time also extremely humiliating in that it gives the garrison and civilians of that city the opportunity to stop useless destruction. If those Nazis continue to fight stubbornly, ignoring the 24 hour notice, the destruction and death which will follow is in their laps.

It is well that the city of Aachen given the border of Germany has given the Allies the opportunity to demonstrate now we apply "unconditional surrender." If the city gives up, the garrison will be interned as prisoners of war. The German soldiers will be properly treated, properly fed, clothed and housed, exactly in accord with the terms of international law. The criticism against the United States is that we are too kind to our prisoner of war.

Nazism To Be Halted

The civilians within Aachen will be humanely controlled by units of our Allied military government. True, Nazism will be stopped and war criminals will be apprehended, but other than that life for Aachen will move on as usual at least for the time being.

The Prussian military cult for years past, in fact since the battle of Sedan in 1870 when the German empire came into being, has carefully and systematically plotted to dominate the world. The attempt at world domination is by no means confined to Hitler and his Nazi bigwigs. The Germans as a whole regard kindness as a weakness. The German nation must know once and for all that they will launch no more attempts at world domination.

On the theory and hope that, if the German war lords can make the capture of their inner fortress sufficiently costly and difficult to the Allies, Germany will obtain a negotiated peace.

Nothing but the enforcement of the "unconditional surrender" policy will completely convince the German people that the United Nations mean business.

of the war then here in this country," commented Stockman. "The high command wouldn't commit itself as to when the war would end," said Poage, who visited Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters. "I think our generals are prepared for whatever may happen, for a full winter's war, if necessary," declared Hays.

railroad at the Velika plant junction, 45 miles south of Belgrade, severing the main Nazi lifeline in the Balkans.

An additional 100,000 German soldiers retreating in the Balkans were deprived of their main escape route by the latest Russian advance in Serbia.

With Russian arms recording victories from the Baltic to the Balkans, the German defenders of the Baltic states found themselves in perhaps the most perilous position. Soviet armies smashing through Nazi defense positions surged ahead almost at will against Germany army opposition.

Red army forces which reached the sea at Palanga, 14 miles north of Memel, trapped huge Nazi forces north and east of that point. Other salients of the Russian front drove through the last prepared defensive line before the Nazi border of East Prussia, and the Soviet high command communique revealed that Russian air power had been unleashed against German attempts to stage a Baltic "Dunkelberg."

Mass Raids On Shipping

During the night of October 9 and the early morning of October 10 Russian long range bombers carried out mass raids on German shipping and port installations at Lepaja-Libau and Riga.

Twelve German transports were caught in the harbor by the Russian attack. Great damage was done to shipping and port installations, and returning pilots reported that fires kindled by the Soviet bombing were visible 125 miles away.

At Riga, large fires were started in the export harbor where three German transports were docked at the time of the raid.

The Russian communique also reported great damage to military trains during the bombings.

In Hungary, a third Russian trap appeared to be forming about German units of the town of Cluj, after severing major rail lines, continued to imperil large Nazi concentrations fighting in Transylvania.

The latest Soviet communique failed to make mention of the drive on the Hungarian capital of Budapest. At last reports, Red army units, striking from the Hungarian capital had punched through Nazi positions to reach Rakoczi, on the east bank of the Tisa river, some 53 miles below Budapest.

FIFTH ARMY IN ITALY SMASHES AHEAD IN RAIN

Adriatic sector of the line punched ahead to improve their positions near Mount Furio. The British and Colonial troops advanced north-west of San Paolo and east of Longiano along the Rimini-Bologna highway.

The American drive along the road from Florence to Bologna brought fierce fighting as Yank spearheads entered the outskirts of Livorno.

West of this sector other Fifth Army units battled against exceptionally heavy German resistance to reach the town of Vado.

South African troops with the Fifth Army continued to press forward in heavy drive and take fighting about Mount Stancio, one of the remaining Nazi strongholds of the Gothic line defenses.

Soldiers Thinking About Four Things

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(INS)—What does the American soldier think about overseas?

Rep. Brooks Hays (D Ark.) just returned from France, listed these four topics today as foremost in the thoughts of our fighting men:

1. Demobilization.
2. Peacetime adjustment, such as getting a job.
3. Veterans' rights under the "G. I. Bill."
4. Politics.

stroyed fourteen were shot down in aerial combat while 75 were blasted on the ground by the daring American raiders.

The bold foray into enemy-controlled waters was carried out by Vice Admiral Marc A. Mitscher's fast carrier task force which recently operated as a part of Admiral William F. Halsey's third fleet in the Manila area of the Philippine Islands.

Closest To Jap Mainland

It was the closest sweep of American naval forces to the Japanese homeland, the previous nearest assault having been made on the Bonin Islands, about 500 miles south-east of Tokyo.

Shore installations and buildings were bombed and strafed by Admiral Mitscher's powerful forces and many structures were left burning.

The Pacific fleet headquarters communique mentioned no specific targets in the attack but the Domei report said that the American planes ranged from Amami Oshima, 200 miles south of the Jap homeland archipelago, to Mirako Shima, nearly 500 miles farther southward near Formosa, within 400 miles of the southeast China coast.

The Ryukyo Islands are spread over 570 miles and mark the boundary of the East China Sea, extending from a point 60 miles east of Formosa, almost to Kyushu at the Japanese archipelago.

The Big Push Against Germany?

Some observers have jumped to the conclusion that the American drive at Aachen is the big push. Optimism has been increased by the progress made there. But it is not clear whether this operation will develop into the main offensive.

All along the line the Allied pressure is on. At any one of several points may come the blow for which the world has been waiting. No doubt General Eisenhower will exploit the breach at Aachen to the full.

Without underestimating the possibilities at Aachen, the Arnhem area can not be crossed off. It is from this sector that a powerful drive would give best promise of a quick victory. A break-through in the north would flank the Siegfried Line and the Rhine. Even if the Americans push ahead 35 miles east of Aachen, they will be confronted by the Rhine fortifications at Cologne and Düsseldorf, where the Germans can be expected to put up a last-ditch defense.

If the real offensive has not yet been launched, it is in the making. General Eisenhower is not likely to accept the prospect of a long winter campaign without making at least one all-out effort to end the war in a hurry. Where the stroke will be delivered will remain a secret until the last moment, but it is no secret that wherever it is delivered the Americans will play the major role.

Holding Bonds

Under the inspiration of United States Treasury officials, many citizens whose financial wisdom is recognized are doing what they can to persuade purchasers of Series E War Bonds to hold on to them.

It is helpful to the holder and to the government if the owners of these bonds do not cash them now, and they will recognize the wisdom of their action in future years if they listen to the counsel of men who know.

The rank and file of War Bond owners realize their own financial loss in turning in their bonds for cash after the 60-day waiting period is ended. There are 81,000,000 War Bond holders in the country. Only 13 per cent of the $26,189,000,000 of Series E Bonds issued since May 1, 1941, had been redeemed on September 1, last.

Studies made by the Treasury reveal that approximately 50 per cent of these redemptions were necessitated by accident, illness or some other hardship.

They Dare Not Walk Alone

General Eisenhower recently linked the Gestapo and the SS. Guard troops as being on the same plane, the lowest of Nazi life. Now an order has gone forth inside Germany itself, which strongly suggests that the aversion in which SS. troops are held is not confined to Allied or occupied countries.

This order prescribes that SS. soldiers "must not walk alone" in German cities and towns after dark; they must at least go by twos and preferably in groups of four. Such an order can have only one interpretation. There must be substantial numbers of Germans aching for a chance to even things up with the brutal SS. and some have already taken it.

This fact, so far as it goes, doesn't offer substantial reasons to expect a German revolt within the Reich. But it does indicate that even there the dread forces of total terror on which Hitler depends to keep millions of Germans from wavering are themselves besieged by some of their own countrymen.

They dare not walk alone anywhere, and that is something to start even their real boss, Himmler, to worrying.

Fraternalization

General Marshall's order to the American armed forces prohibiting all fraternization with the German population as they penetrate enemy territory will be very difficult to enforce. And no one knows it better than General Marshall. He had a foretaste of what is likely to happen when he saw pictures of German civilians associating on comradely terms with American soldiers.

General Marshall knows from his studies of military history that as between enemy soldiers, fraternization is likely to become a problem.

Both the British and the Americans found that it was almost impossible to quench this fraternization instinct when they stationed their armies of occupation among German civilians following the armistice of 1918. The Americans were friendly, free with their money—and loneliness. Some of them married German girls.

Today the invading armies must be disciplined to complete their conquest by bringing the Nazi criminals to justice and helping to uproot the Nazi political philosophy. They may have to root out Nazi guerrillas for some time. But the men of these armies are primarily civilians with normal desires for off-duty social diversion and sight-seeing. It will be difficult for the American high command to convert them into a harsh and unrelenting constabulary.

Meaning Of Good Management

The most amazingly successful management job in history was the preparation for opening of the second front. For sheer efficiency, it resembled the working methods of industry here at home. Men and materials were assembled at the right place at the right time to do a specific job. In the humdrum existence of peacetime, this organizing genius, traditional to the United States, never seemed very important. Management was often derided. But suddenly when our armies hit the beaches of Normandy, everyone prayed that nothing had been overlooked. They prayed that management in industry, in government and in the army had done a good job. Countless lives depended on good management.

If a single phase in the management of the invasion had failed, the whole project would have been thrown out of gear. For instance, thousands of land, sea and air craft from giant tanks, jeeps, airplanes and battleships, had to be fueled and ready to go on the instant of H-Hour. Fueling and lubricating the invasion was up to the American oil industry. That task has become known as the biggest "filling station" operation in history. It was done without a hitch, thanks to the good management of the oil men.

After the war is over, good management will be needed to keep industry going in the tough days of reconversion. It will be needed not only in the oil industry, but in mining, transportation, electric power, and every other enterprise. It saved lives in the invasions. In peacetime it will save jobs. There is no better manager than the independent American business man. We should remember this in the days to come.

No matter how cold the weather, the Germans will be sitting on a hot spot.

It seems practically certain that John L. Lewis will not make a $500,000 contribution to the New Deal's campaign fund this year.

Washington Calling

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON CALLING Wendell Wilkie's Service Fearless

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 11.—The world is poorer for the loss of a great American, Wendell Wilkie, whose courage and forthrightness were so desperately needed in this time of testing and trial.

Four years ago, he moved through this western half of America, proclaiming in his raucous, strident voice his faith in the country that had given him his great opportunity. He had a lot to learn. He made most of the mistakes a candidate for national office could make.

But when it was over he put aside his intense partisanship; he put himself at the service of democracy. He visited embattled Britain, and when he returned, he spoke out fearlessly for the lend-lease bill. His support of that fundamental measure counted heavily in its final passage.

It was then that the little men began to snap, jackal-like, at his heels. They could not understand such disinterest, which put the welfare of the nation above the personal fate of the individual. They never ceased to snipe at the big, shaggy, chomping man who went with his own way, like Gulliver among the Lilliputian politicians.

Learned Great Deal In the four years that followed his unsuccessful campaign, Wilkie learned a great deal. He grew in stature. He spoke fearlessly and honestly on the issues that strike so deeply at our unity.

That, however, is a luxury we do not permit our public figures—to learn from experience. At any rate, his own party would have none of him. It will long be remembered that at the Republican convention in Chicago his counsel was not even sought. For the man who had been the standard bearer four years ago, there was not even a place on the New York delegation.

The experts said that it was a tactical error for Wilkie to have risked his political future on the outcome of the primary in Wisconsin. He should have been smarter, they said, more cautious. Look at the way Dewey played it, they said. They may have been right. It may have been a tactical mistake. The old, regular Republicans went out with the knife to get him, and they got him.

But it was an act of courage. He stood there before the people of this country and spoke what he believed. I'm glad I had the privilege of watching that act of courage at first hand. I'll never forget the man in two or three of those speeches, when he put his heart into his beliefs and convictions. They may be forgotten now, in this mad time of rush and confusion, but I believe that two or three of those speeches will live in our political history.

Deep Blow To Him The outcome of the Wisconsin primary, the fact that he failed to get a single delegate, was a deep blow to Wilkie. While he concealed it, nevertheless it hurt. And that gave the little men a certain smug satisfaction. Too, he's through, they said. That's the end of him.

It is ironic that he should have died when his followers in every part of America were looking to him for guidance in the present campaign. Those followers, and their number is large among the independent voters, will take his death as a personal loss. He had become to them not only a symbol of courage and honesty, but a friend. What choice would Wilkie have made? I think he had failed to reach a final conclusion. My guess is that he might have reserved to the end of the campaign the right to hit out at the errors and the evasions of both candidates. Whether he would have overcome his personal dislike of Governor Dewey to give his party ticket, it is hard to say.

Out here on the coast, one of his intimate friends and warm admirers, Bartley Crum of San Francisco, has declared for Roosevelt. So has Russell Davenport, who was his campaign manager in 1940. Perhaps Wilkie would ultimately have joined them. No one will know the answer. A strong, proud, impetuous, lovable American is gone.

What People Say

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt praises work of Dumbarton Oaks conference: "This time we have been determined first to defeat the enemy, assure that he shall never again be in position to plunge the world into war, and then to organize the peace-loving nations that they may through unity of desire, unity of will and unity of strength be in position to assure that the world will never again be a place where the aggressor or conqueror shall ever get started."

ALBANY—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican nominee for president, approves Dumbarton Oaks decisions: "All peace-loving peoples must rejoice that we have found so large an area of agreement about world organization for peace. The unanimous recommendations open the way to the next steps."

WITH THE SEVENTH ARMY IN FRANCE—Gen. George C. Marshall, U. S. Army chief of staff, I hope to see the finish of things on this front at the earliest possible moment."

NEW YORK—Thomas J. Watson, president of the International Business Machines Corporation: "Without the proper flow of business services, no peace organization can do a complete job."

Many Americans with the invasion in southern France will have a unique experience. For the first time, they will actually win at Monte Carlo—Washington, D. C., Evening Star.

Good Taste

By FRANKIE MARKEE

YOUR HAIR-DO "Almost anything goes in hair-dos this year, but none of the newest ones seem suitable for me. My head is narrow through the brow—my cheek bones somewhat wide. Can you advise me as to a becoming coiffure?" Nancy.

Answer: The new flat-top shows the true shape of the head and should not be worn by you, since your brow is narrow. Continue the pompadour style, which seems to be here to stay or adopt soft curls above the forehead or short, curly bangs. Any of these will give your head a much-needed build-up.

You may wear your hair in the modish, unweaved style, the fullest above the ears, thus balancing your narrow brow with your wide cheek bones. If your ears will not stand this exposure, there is always the ever-popular feather bob covering or partially covering the ears.

There are so many hair styles from which to choose, it is inexcusable to be unbecomingly coiffed. In addition to the above-suggested modes, there are a host of hairdos for the long or moderately long bob, fluffed about the neck to give width to the narrow of receding chin.

Note your defects and choose a coiffure to tone them down.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PROGRAM FOR BOY AND GIRL

"Dear Dr. Myers—I have tried everything a mother knows to do—kindness, talking, weeping, praying, but things get worse. I have two children, a boy 12 years old, girl seven. When the children were small they loved each other and there was little fussing or arguing. They always minded me. They not only do not respect me now, but also will not do anything I ask them to do unless I punish them severely. They have duties to do around the place but never do them unless forced. I've tried to hire them or make them stay away from picture shows, but nothing I try to do seems to work. I am a self-admitted stamped is enclosed."

In part, I answered her: I have a deal of sympathy with you. I am sure you are very conscientious and have tried to do your best. As you indicate, these children should be responsible for some home duties, but if you have to tell them each time a duty must be done, they are only learning to hate such responsibilities.

A Plan Needed Calmly sit down with Dad, after the children have gone to bed, and work out together a program. Accordingly, you will agree that each child will have a few definite jobs, not many, he will have to do each day. Make clear to each exactly what the job is and when it must be done each day. Once you are sure the assignment is reasonable, announce what, exactly, the consequences will be for each failure. Then make sure the penalties are carried out to the letter.

A painful penalty is to have to sit in a chair without amusement for a definite time, doing nothing but counting the minutes. If either child goes to the chair, he or she is to sit there, paddle him. Do likewise if either leaves the chair before the time is up. Do a good job of it. Put no trust in talking, coaxing, weeping. Pray for them but not over them. Take feelings out of the pictures. Never set the two on the same job at the same time.

Regular Daily Jobs Don't let them do these regular jobs; tell them. When, however, you ask them to do extra things, let them decide whether to accept or not; and don't get angry if they decide against you. Treat a request you make of them just as if they were grown up; but a command must have effective authority back of it. When either child does something for you voluntarily, show warm appreciation. Plan that each has some time wholly his own.

Expect them to quarrel. When it gets past your endurance, separate them for a definite time without trying to place the blame. Doubtless the older child suffers from jealousy. Help him enjoy more approvals. Avoid comparisons. See that the younger does not impose on the older or tag along. Encourage each one to have his own playmates. Attract their friends to your home for good times. Be generous with worthy approvals and with affection expressed in tender tones. Laugh more and tell more jokes, you and Dad. Try to let more things about the house go so you can be more relaxed. Find more recreation for yourself. I am sending you my booklet, "How To Teach The Child To Help At Home."

Some Capital Stories Mr. Churchill may see the European war is going to last for another year or so. General Eisenhower may waltz against over-optimistic peace talk. But there is one charwoman at Union station who does not agree with either authority.

The charwoman was sweeping up some of the ruckus at the station and was "tastefully dressed in pinks and sweaters at the time. 'I don't care what anybody says this war is soon going to be over,' she announced to a sister sweeper."

"That is not what the big people and the newspapers say. I know this war is about over. And you want me to tell you why? O K. This maw'nin' my boss talked back to me!"

This tale has a hundred variations at the moment. Another current yarn reports the conversation of one of the barkeeps at the Columbia Country club on the subject of who is going to win this election.

"I tell you Mr. Roosevelt is gonna win," said the bartender to the crowd before him. "Poor Mr. Dewey hasn't got a chance. Why? Giv' because Mr. Roosevelt has given ever-y thing away. Ever-y thing. He hasn't left nothin' for Mr. Dewey to hand out. And you gentlemen stand around here waitin' for your drinks know as well as I that you don't get nowhere if you haven't got jes' a little somethin' to hand out."

At this point the gentlemen, overlooking the club rule of "no tipping allowed," dug up two-bits or so here and there, got their highballs and martinis in double quick time and thus proved the value of the bartender's prediction.

FOOLISH WISE I've been laughed at; I've been jested at. I've been sneered at and derided. But the fact is, in their practice, Most have done the same as I did.

And when questioned will admit: Cried, as I, a little bit. And went out with eyes aflame. On the day the candles came.

Once they thought I was the only One who tramped the hall and waited.

Watched and worried, anxious flurried. While the doctors operated. They could face it calmly, maybe! And as coolly greet a baby. Just arrived through hours of danger.

As they would some grown up stranger! They so wise and I so foolish! And perhaps I should not doubt them.

But I've learned this truth about them: Those who sneered at me the loudest. Of their grandchild now are proudest.

And for weakness can be chided. For they cried a bit, as I did! (Copyright, 1944, Edgar A. Guest)

Paris Now Turns To Washington For Hats
Red Cross Girl Praises Paratroop Work

By HELEN ESSARY
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—An R. street milliner is making hats to send to Paris. She says she thinks the Paris hats are so hideous that French women will be glad to have something really chic to put on their heads.

The R. street milliner already has one definite order from Paris for a Washington hat. It has come from Mrs. Selena Chapin, wife of the charge d'affaires at the U. S. embassy there. Said hat is a small, silly number made out of an inch or two of felt and a lot of feathers going criss-cross and very up-ty. Said hat is likewise come-hitherish. It also has super sophistication, so I was told.

And how will the Washington hat get to Paris? Answer—it will travel in the diplomatic mail pouch.

Viva le Chapeau Wash-en-ton! Second note from Paris. The French are finding—in the light-hearted American soldiers—the best tourists they ever had. Such spending! Such flinging about of tips! France has never had such trade. Viva les touristes militaires!

Paratroopers Build Chapel This now is a very pleasant piece about France. I found it in a letter to a Red Cross girl wrote home.

"There's a group of American soldiers whose influence you feel and see everywhere we have been. I mean the paratroopers. Of course there are none around now. The paratroopers go in to enemy territory when the going is at its very hardest. Long before any civilian can risk a trip. But the stories you hear about them are almost like old-time legends of heroes."

"Many French mothers have dressed their children in little suits of mottled green and white, as near like the paratroopers uniforms as they can find. Green and white is a favorite color combination—green skirts, white blouses and green pinafores."

"I found a rude and wonderful chapel built first for the paratroopers. It had been put up in a dank old stable. But the stone floor was polished until it shined. The altar was in the corner facing the door so that you saw it first. It wasn't really an altar, just a simple table draped with some light blue woolen material from the low ceiling to the floor. On each side of the altar was hung a single scarlet parachute and on the walls behind were two white parachutes. The seats were low metal stools made from the ends of ammunition cases."

Some Capital Stories Mr. Churchill may see the European war is going to last for another year or so. General Eisenhower may waltz against over-optimistic peace talk. But there is one charwoman at Union station who does not agree with either authority.

New Castle's Home Planners' Club has chosen for its current House-of-the-Month this charming house which is a modern adaptation of Colonial Style. Although only five rooms, all of them are of good size and exceptionally well planned so as to present an interesting and convenient floor plan.

The Judson, as is the case with all House-of-the-Month plans, is approved by the F. H. A. The electrical layout has also been checked and approved by the National Adequate Wiring Bureau to provide for an abundance of convenience outlets for appliances of the future.

Complete 1/4" scale blueprints and specifications are available for your inspection at the offices of First Federal Savings and Loan Association. There, colored sketches and posters complete with floor plans of the Judson and former Houses-of-the-Month may be viewed by anyone interested in planning a home for the future.

statute books of the nation and the present corporation taxes should be lessened materially. And this should be done right now. As soon as Congress has re-assembled, this problem should be viewed and suitable ways and means should be devised which will enable war industry to be transferred to peace industry. And at the same time the individual liberty or freedom of the manufacturers of the country be put in a position to go ahead in the American way of encouraging the individuality and genius of the American in the development of the tremendous resources of this nation which have never yet been touched.

Words Of Wisdom

It is not ease but effort, not facility, but difficulty, that makes men. There is, perhaps, no station in life in which difficulties have not to be encountered and overcome before any decided measure of success can be achieved.—S. Smiles.

DON'T TRIFLE WITH TASTE!

Avoid bitter flavor in home baking. Use Rumford no-alum Baking Powder.

Sausage Corn Bread
1 cup yellow corn meal
1 cup flour
3 teaspoons Rumford Baking Powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg
1 cup milk
1/2 cup melted shortening
1/2 cup cooked sausage meat
Sift together first four ingredients, beat egg, add milk and shortening. Add dry ingredients, stirring just enough to moisten. Add sausage meat. Pour into greased 8-inch square pan. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) 30 minutes. Serve with sautéed apple rings. Serves 4.

KEMP HUSTED CHURCH WEDDING IMPRESSIVE

Epworth church was the scene of a beautiful wedding on Tuesday afternoon, at five o'clock, when Miss Winifred E. Kemp, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Alexander H. Kemp, of Quessau, Angola, Africa, became the bride of Pte. Theodore H. Husted of Youngsville, Pa.

Before an altar banked with palms and decorated with white glads and mums, and lighted with white tapered candelabra, the impressive double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. George R. D. Braun, minister of Epworth church.

The bride, attended by her sister, Miss Grace Kemp, of Upper Montclair, N. J., a student at Swarthmore College, was given in marriage by her uncle, Irving Kemp of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Corp. Warren R. Husted of Camp Campbell, Ky., was his brother's best man.

The bride was gowned in white satin, touched with pearls, and wore a coronet, finger-tip veil and the groom's gift of pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of white mums and poms. The bridesmaid wore a matching gown of ice-blue and carried an arm bouquet of yellow mums and poms. Her tiara was of yellow button mums. Miss Flo Berg of Pittsburgh as soloist sang "Because" and "I Love You" with Mrs. Anna Pyle, organist of Epworth church, as accompanist. She also played the traditional wedding marches.

Others in the party included the bride's aunt, Mrs. George Dean of Upper Montclair, N. J., the groom's mother, Mrs. H. H. Husted of Youngsville, Pa., and Mrs. George Braun, with whom the bride has made her home in recent years.

A wedding reception and dinner at Epworth church followed the ceremony. The tables were decorated with fall flowers and the bride's table was centered with a tiered wedding cake and lighted tapers.

Guests from out of town included Mrs. George Dean of Upper Montclair, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. Irving Kemp, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kemp, Miss Marjorie Kemp, Miss Flo Berg and Miss Leah Ball of Pittsburgh, Pa., Mrs. Earl Bliss of Wellsboro, Pa., Mrs. Clarence Decker of Cleveland, O., Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Husted, Miss Nellie Knapp, and Mr. John Zelliff of Youngsville, Pa., Miss Betty Husted of Atlanta, Ga., Mrs. Warren Husted of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Dr. and Mrs. E. Roy Myers, Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Tidmarsh, Miss Alice Kemp, Miss Mae Marschall and Robert Tidmarsh of Meadville, Pa., Miss Marcelle Juncos, of Lima, Peru, Mr. and Mrs. Michel Radock of New Wilmington, Pa., Miss Helen Cornelius of Erie, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Homer Andrews of Warren, Pa., Dr. and Mrs. Harold A. McCurdy of Grove City, Pa., and Mrs. George R. D. Braun and Robert Braun of New Castle, Pa.

Mrs. Husted is a senior in Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., and a graduate of Northfield Seminary, Northfield, Mass. Pte. Husted is a former student at Grove City College and is now stationed at Camp Maxey, Tex.

After a brief honeymoon trip, Pte. Husted will report for duty at Fort Sam Houston, Tex., and Mrs. Husted will resume her studies at Allegheny.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB PROGRAM

1919 Kensington
Mrs. Lucy Covert, Youngstown road, was hostess to the 1919 Kensington membership in her home Tuesday evening. Tables of 500 and bride were in play, prizes going to Mrs. John W. Sweet and Mrs. Eliza Ann Troutman.

Plans were outlined for a yuletide party, and other business was also taken up.

In serving a tasty collation, the hostess was aided by Mrs. David Jones and Mrs. John W. Sweet.

Next time will be with Mrs. Agnes Lorenze, Park avenue, in two weeks.

Jolly Twelve Postponement
Because of illness, the meeting of the Jolly Twelve club, which was to have been held on Thursday, at the home of Mrs. James Patterson of South Ray street, has been postponed until a later date.

WEINGARTNER CLASS OPENS WITH PROGRAM

Mr. and Mrs. George T. Weingartner, Butler road, were hosts to members of the Weingartner Bible class of Epworth Methodist church Tuesday evening in their home.

They entertained informally at a social function, highlighted by three debates, two of a humorous nature and one of a serious trend.

Upwards forty-five witnessed the evening program in charge of Russell Rhodes and Norman Clark.

They were announced by vice-president, Lloyd Thompson, who offered greetings to the assemblage.

Taking form of an "old fashioned literary society" with keen interest and competition being displayed, Pep singing with "songs of long ago" being chosen, launched the entertainment, with all taking part. The debates and subjects chosen follow: First, "When Women Prefer Men Without Moustaches for Husbands Than Those With Handlebars." Taking part were Mrs. Frank Morgan, Mrs. Richard Johns, Mrs. Harold Shuler and Mrs. James Wighton. Second, "Why Men Prefer Blondes for Wives." Argued by Charles Miller, Roy Ringer, Frank Morgan and Arthur Armstrong. Third, "Youth Programs in Churches." Presenting opinions were: Frank Morgan, Harold Mark.

Attend Meeting In Philadelphia

City Represented At State Division Of American Palestine Committee Session Tuesday

NOTED SPEAKERS HEARD AT EVENT

Meeting in Philadelphia for its inaugural dinner on Tuesday, the Pennsylvania division, American Palestine committee heard speakers of national importance, discussed methods of expanding the organization and heard the chairman, Chief Justice George W. Maxey, outline his plans for future activity. The day started with a luncheon at 12:30 followed by a meeting and panel discussion, a dinner at 6:30 followed by a program of speakers in the ballroom of the Bellevue Stratford hotel.

Back of the American Palestine committee and the Christian Council on Palestine, a group consisting of Christian ministers, is the desire to open the coors of Palestine to Jews again, to re-establish the Balfour declaration of 1917 which was agreed to by 52 nations and ratified by treaty between the United States and Great Britain, but which mandate was abrogated in 1939 by the White Paper issued by the British government under Prime Minister Chamberlain.

Nationally Known

The speakers on both programs were men nationally known. They included Dr. Carl Hermann Voss, executive secretary of the Christian Council on Palestine; Dr. Henry A. Atkinson, chairman of the same body; Dr. Edward C. Lindeman, head of the New York School of Social Work; Rev. Wendell Phillips of New York City; Dr. Walter Clay Lowdermilk, assistant chief, soil conservation service, U. S. Department of Agriculture; Prof. Carl J. Friedrich, Harvard university; Mayor Bernard Samuel of Philadelphia; Philadelphia Chairman Roland S. Morris; Dr. A. A. Neuman, president of Dropsie college, Philadelphia; Dr. Daniel A. Poling, pastor of the Baptist Temple, Philadelphia and editor of the Christian Herald; Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr, professor of Applied Christianity, Union Theological Seminary, New York City, and Dr. Howard M. Le Sourd, dean of Boston university.

During the day the need of refuge for thousands of persecuted Jews, now refugees, was pointed out, the ability of Palestine to absorb five times as many Jews as are presently there without restricting the Arab population, and the moral necessity of re-establishing the mandate which was given in 1917. Justice Maxey pointed out that chapters of the Pennsylvania division would be organized throughout the state to add to the growing numbers of the national organization. Through the enlistment of members in the American Palestine committee it is hoped to impress the state department of the interest of Americans in the plight of Jews in other nations and then when the military stress is removed to convince Great Britain that Palestine should once again be opened to the Jews and the national home for Jews made a reality.

Lawrence county was represented by Rev. Thomas J. Jones, pastor of First Congregational church, and Bart Richards.

1—Promote the flow of vital digestive juices in the stomach

2—Energize your body with RICH, RED BLOOD!

Improper diet, overwork, undue worries, colds, the flu or other illness often impairs the stomach's digestive functions and reduces the red-blood strength.

A person who is operating on only a 70 to 75% healthy blood volume or a stomach digestive capacity of only 50 to 60% normal is severely handicapped. At such times Nature needs extra help to restore its balance and function properly. Undigested food places a tax on the system...insufficient blood strength is a detriment to good health.

If you are subject to poor digestion or suspect deficient red-blood as the cause of your trouble, yet have no organic complication or focal infection, SSS Tonic may be just what you need!

SSS Tonic is especially designed (1) to promote the flow of VITAL DIGESTIVE JUICES in the stomach and (2) to build up BLOOD STRENGTH when deficient. These two important results enable you to enjoy the food you do eat...to make use of it as Nature intended. Thus you may get new vitality...pep...become animated...more attractive.

Build Sturdy Health and Help America Win

Thousands and thousands of users have testified to the benefits SSS Tonic has brought to them and scientific research shows that it gets results—that's why so many say "SSS Tonic builds sturdy health makes you feel like yourself again." At drug stores in 100 and 200 size SSS S.C.O.

Lions See Film On Tarawa Battle

Cpl. John Othities, Who Took Part In Famous Engagement, Is Guest Of Club

New Castle Lions Club members saw the thrilling action when Tarawa was taken by the famous Second Marines, at their noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Tuesday noon. The picture brought back never-to-be forgotten memories to one in the audience, for Cpl. John Othities, of the Second Marines, who took part in this famous battle saw the action as the camera pictured it in color.

Cpl. Othities later stated that the film was very true, except that the sound camera didn't accurately record the ferocity of the Jap defense and machine gun fire. It was terrific, Cpl. Othities stated.

The club voted to dispense with the noon meeting on Tuesday, October 24, and instead will have a party on Wednesday evening, October 25, details for which are now being worked out.

The club had a number of guests. Included was Lion Rodney Williams, son of Lion G. Earl Williams, who was formerly located in Alabama as an instructor at an air school, but who is now enroute to New York to take a position with the American Air Lines.

Others were Ellis Diefenderfer, assistant secretary of the Shenandoah Pottery Co.; Lt. David Conner, U. S. Navy; C. L. Sellers, of Meadville; A. D. Beck, of Sharon; and two past presidents, Harding Thayer, of the Pittsburgh district; and George F. Winter, Jr., U. S. Navy, who is home on leave from California, where he is stationed awaiting assignment to sea duty.

PULASKI

HONOR MINISTER

A reception to welcome them back was given Wednesday evening in the Methodist church to honor Rev. and Mrs. Paul E. Aley. He has been pastor here for two years and was returned at the yearly Erie conference, Meadville.

Mrs. Adam Grell was in charge of the program. Greetings were brought by the following: Roy C. Bilger, for the Sunday school; Mrs. J. W. Cameron, W. S. C. S.; Mrs. James Black, official board, and Mrs. Walter Mitchell, for the church. Piano solos were played by Jean Ann Morgan and Sandra Grell while Miss Dorothy and Ted Lutton played duets.

Rev. Aley was presented with a purse of money in behalf of the members. He expressed his appreciation. A lunch was served by the women of the church.

CLASS MEETING

Members of Mrs. Walter Mitchell's class of the Methodist church were entertained recently in the home of Mrs. Aubrey Morgan. Lunch was served by the hostess, aided by her daughter Jean Ann, and her sister, Evelyn Grell, who will entertain November 9.

PULASKI NOTES

Mrs. Roy C. Bilger, Mrs. Gaylord Cameron and Mrs. D. F. Funk were recent New Castle visitors.

Ralph Simpson has returned to his duties in California after spending a furlough at his home here.

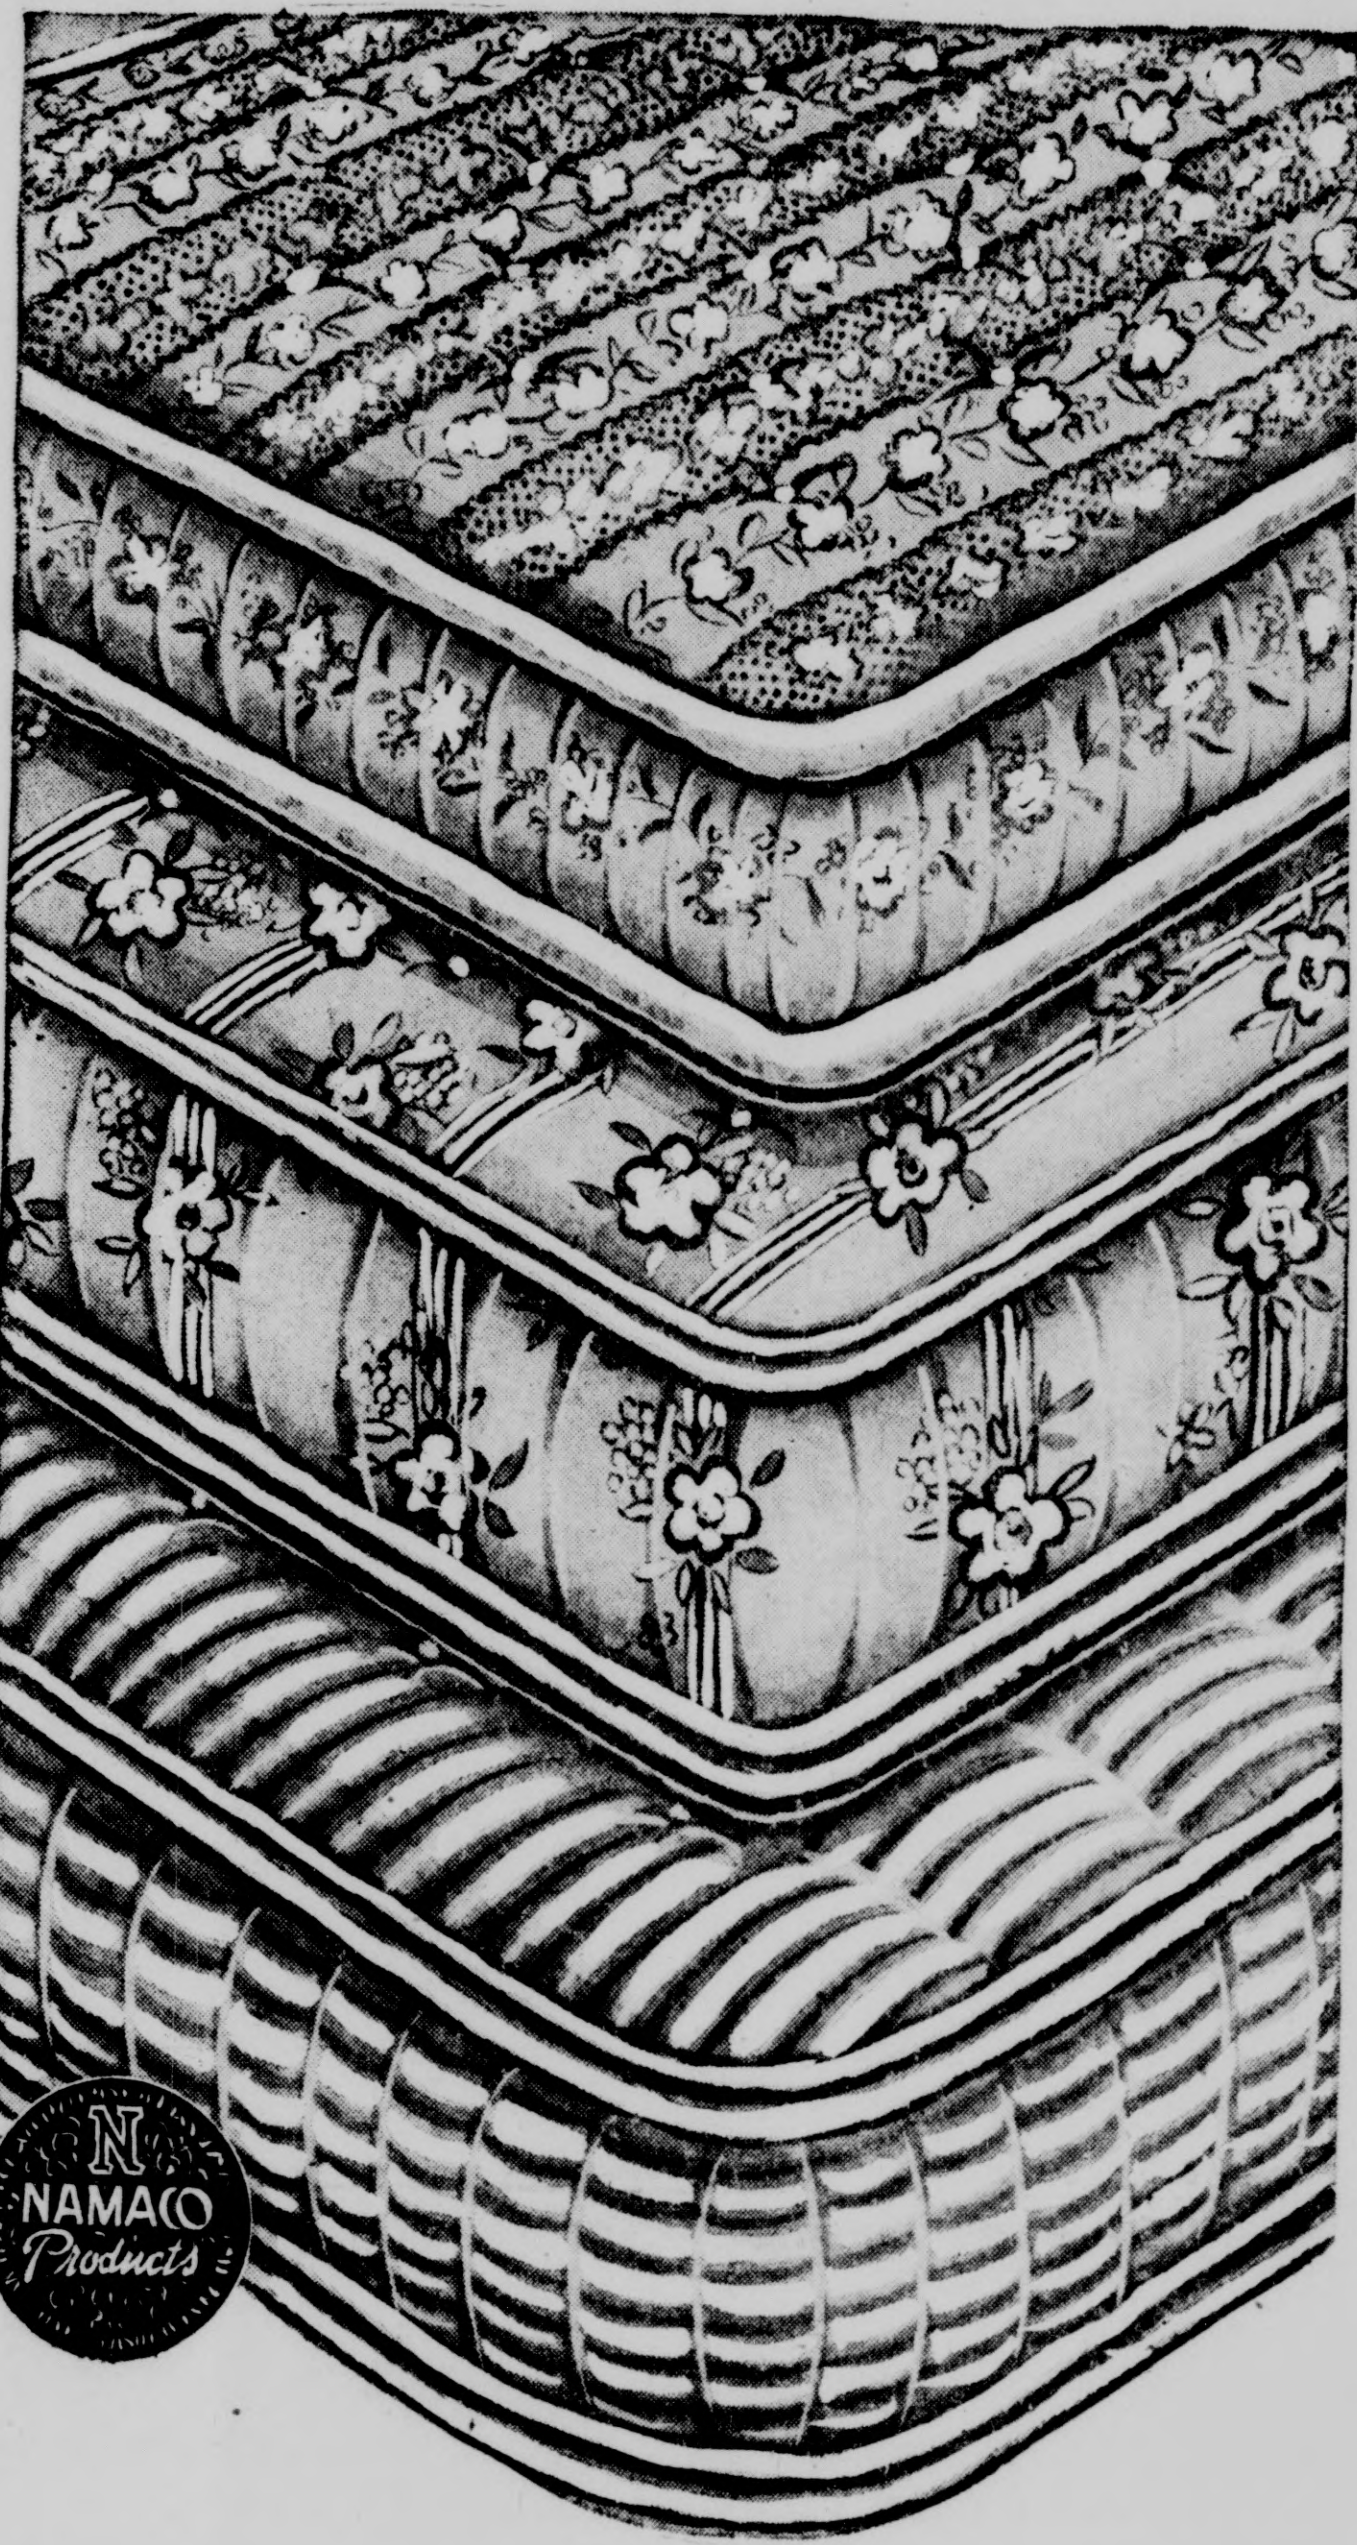

Class Six of the Methodist church will meet Thursday evening with Mrs. Laura Wilson. Mrs. Charles Wallace will be co-hostess.

Mrs. Edna Michael and Florence Douglas of Warren, O., were recent guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mitchell.

Mrs. Kenneth Harry and Mrs. Robert Redmond of New Bedford were Sunday guests of Miss Audrey Bilger at her home here. She has been spending some time in Hubbard, O.

A monster watermelon weighing 137 pounds was sent to the Hollywood Canteen from Tennessee.

George Yeager, attending military school at Chester, Pa., spent several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Yeager.

HIJACKERS STEAL SUGAR FROM TRUCK

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—(INS)—Hijackers added to the shortage of sugar in Chicago today after a raid which netted three of them two hundred 100-pound sacks of it.

Richard Barber, driver of the truck, said three armed men stopped his truck at a street corner and asked him if he were a member of the teamsters' union. When he answered no he was forced from the truck. It was found later in an alley with its $1,200 cargo missing.

A machine just invented is designed to rake cranberries from the bushes like a comb going through hair. It then gathers up the berries and pours them into containers.

LEAVES OVER SIDEWALKS

Leaves cover many sidewalks in the city, hence the sidewalks when wet are very slippery. Recently, it was announced that the city would depart from its custom and not haul away leaves. In past years many people swept the leaves into the cartway. However, they must now dispose of them. Before a fire may be started one must have a fire permit from fire authorities of the district in which the residence is located.

It was in Pawtucket, R. I., that Samuel Slater, after working for a time in the cotton spinning mill of Moses Brown, designed new machines and began the first real cotton manufacturing plant in the United States, in 1790.

Have a "Coke" = Here's your reward

...or being a good neighbor in Nassau

Underwater exploring in a homemade diving helmet is a novel sport in the West Indies. But the refreshment that's always welcome afterwards is the same as here in the States—ice-cold Coca-Cola. In Nassau as in New York, the pause that refreshes makes a refreshing interlude after strenuous work or play. In many lands around the globe, Coca-Cola has become a high-sign of friendliness, just as it is in your own home.

Fate Of Mother In Murder Case Ready For Jury

MEDIA, Pa., Oct. 11.—(INS)—A jury of nine women and three men will be charged by Judge Albert Dutton MacDade in Delaware county court today before being closed to consider the fate of Mrs. Ann Mary Laughhead, 22-year-old Upland mother accused of slaying her husband.

Mrs. Laughhead told the jury yesterday that her husband Robert, 25, was killed with a commando knife after he told her she "didn't have the nerve to do it." She related how Laughhead came home intoxicated the night of the slaying, beat her, and then dared her to stab him.

"The next thing I knew, he was lying on the floor with the knife in his chest," she said.

Attorney for the Commonwealth Joseph E. Pappano did not ask the jurors for a specific verdict.

Believe Germany Trying To Conceal Internal Troubles

LONDON, Oct. 11.—(INS)—The mystery of the severed telephonic communications between Berlin and Stockholm deepened today with Stockholm dispatches reporting the growing belief that official Nazi circles were trying to conceal internal trouble from the outer world.

The longest suspension of telephone service between Stockholm and Berlin during the war continued, with spasmodic communication through the German capital available through Copenhagen, Reuter reported.

Rumors sweeping the Swedish capital said that Reichsmarshal Herman Goering had been arrested. These unconfirmed reports were bolstered by the inability of neutral sources in Berlin to make contact with Goering.

REAL ESTATE MEN CLOSE CONVENTION

HARRISBURG, Oct. 11.—(INS)—Two hundred delegates to the 24th annual conference of the Pennsylvania Real Estate Association will close their three-day meeting today with an election of officers and adoption of 15 resolutions.

Thomas B. Stockham of Morrisville, veteran state assemblyman, is association president. Richard W. Fechnburg of Edgington, chairman of the resolutions committee, said that "one of the most important" resolutions would protect the OPA's interpretation of the rent control law.

Another resolution, he said, would recommend that legislation be introduced at the General Assembly next January calling for removal of the burden of school taxes from real estate and place it on the state.

Leaves Huge Trail Of Bad Checks

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—(INS)—Courtney T. Taylor, 36, of Chicago, went to Federal penitentiary for two years today, leaving a trail of bad checks in 23 states totaling a known peculation of $55,000 but which FBI agents said may reach $200,000.

Judge George A. Welsh imposed sentence in U. S. District Court in Philadelphia after describing Taylor, who has a string of 50 aliases, as an "eccentric character who puzzles everybody including psychiatrists who examined him."

Taylor pleaded guilty two weeks ago to defrauding merchants around Philadelphia of approximately $2,000. He maintained his own printing press to make his own checks.

See Hope For Settlement Of Polish Issue

By LEON PEARSON
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—There was a sudden revival of hope among Washington officials today when word came from London that Polish Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczak had been summoned to Moscow to join the conference between Marshall Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill.

Hope for settlement of the Polish question had flickered and almost gone out following the last visit of Mikolajczak to Moscow, which had failed to reconcile the differences between the Soviet-created Polish Council of Liberation and the Soviet-hating Polish government in London.

The Polish prime minister's latest gesture of conciliation was brushed aside when he arranged the replacement of anti-Soviet Chief of Staff General Sosnkowski by the Polish leader, General Bor, only to have Moscow call Bor a traitor.

Settlement Attempt
Washington officials regarded the news of Mikolajczak's second trip to Moscow as the latest and perhaps the final attempt to Churchill to settle the Polish-Russian differences in quiet behind-the-scenes discussions. If this effort should fail, it was believed the whole controversy would flare out into public debate with such recrimination as to make a settlement impossible.

The official American view is that some sacrifice of Polish territory to Russia is inevitable, but that the whole question should be put off until the final peace conference. Meantime, Washington continues to support the Polish government in London, with which Russia broke relations a year and a half ago.

Will Involve Changes
It was acknowledged in the American capital with considerable reluctance that the new conference between Mikolajczak and Stalin, if it brings any settlement at all, will involve radical changes in the Polish government which the United States recognizes, and also territorial adjustments, in spite of the American desire to avoid that question during the war.

It was also assumed in Washington that Churchill and Stalin will discuss means of protecting the life lines in the face of growing Soviet power in the Balkans.

In the State department it was stated that the Moscow conference is not an American affair and that American interests are not involved. Also, it was stated that the conference was not arranged at Quebec, and cannot be regarded as a sequel to that meeting between Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt.

Churchill, it was emphasized, is not giving Stalin a "fill-in" on the Quebec conference, which the Soviet leader was unable to attend, but is discussing strictly European affairs of concern to the British and Russian governments.

Supply Of Canned Goods For Civilians Depends On War

Sharply Reduced Supplies Forecast Unless Defeat Of Germany Affects Situation

By ERWIN D. SIAS
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Civilians will get sharply reduced supplies of canned fruits and vegetables in the coming year unless the defeat of Germany halts currently high military demands, industry sources predicted today.

One large packing firm warned that the total civilian canned vegetable supply will be about 20 per cent below last year and that canned fruits will be available on the nation's grocery shelves in "very limited quantities."

Might Be Affected
Meantime, a War Food Administration spokesman said the collapse of Germany "could" see canned fruits removed from rationing due to lessened requirements of the army and navy.

All vegetables—except tomatoes and tomato products such as catsup—are presently rationed free.

The industry gave the following outlook on vegetables, basing its figures on continuation of the present military demands:

Canned peas—supply about one-fifth (or 20 per cent) less than last year.

Corn—considerably less than last year.

Asparagus—approximately the same as last year.

Beets and carrots—military requirements for carrots three times above last year and twice as high for beets, hence not as many for civilians.

Tomatoes—materially less than last year.

Could Change Radically
The industry source pointed out, however, that this picture could radically change on vegetables if the government reduced quotas out of this year's pack or released substantial quantities from reserve stocks.

Here's what the packing industry predicts on availability of various canned fruit items put up in this year's pack:

Peaches—Lack of manpower cut down the industry's pack which will be "only about average." Civilian supplies will be "materially less than last year."

Pears—Although the pack exceeds last year's, civilians will find "very small" quantities.

Fruit cocktail—High military demand, less for civilians.

Pineapple and pineapple juice—"Still scarcer than last year" due to low 1943 pack and higher military requirements.

Apricots—The one bright spot in the fruit picture, apricots will be available to civilians in ample quantities.

Bessemer Boy Scouts Hold Court Of Honor

S-Sgt. Paul Johnson, Returned Prisoner Of War, Speaks To Boys During Evening

Highlighted by the presence of S. Sgt. Paul Johnson, formerly a prisoner of war in Romania, Bessemer Boy Scouts held their Court of Honor Tuesday evening, with 25 boys receiving advancement, and 19 receiving merit badges. Thomas Allen, scout executive, said today.

Joe Martin was chairman of the court, assisted by S. G. McCullough, Paul Kaneviger, Edward E. Bradley, Joe Hartman, Ralph Davis, J. Arthur Turek, and Thomas Allen.

S-Sgt. Johnson, a prisoner for three of the six months he was overseas, was with the crew of the first plane to make a shuttle bombing raid from Italy to Russia over Romania. Forced down once over the Aegean, he was forced down again, on his thirteenth mission, over Romania.

The crew all survived, Sgt. Johnson reports, but they were all made prisoners. When the Allies were really moving into Romania, and the Germans were moving out, the airmen were rescued by bombers which would land in the prison camp and pick up as many as they could carry.

Scouts Advanced
Scouts who received advancement to second class: James Certalish, 1 (48); Primo Domin, 1 (48); Ted Serjak, 1 (48); Albert Grull, 3 (19); Lawrence Barger, 3 (19); and Francis Tilo, 3 (19).

Those reaching first class were: Charles Stanley, 1 (48); Anthony Carna, Frank Cline, Joe Trotta, Sam Tirota, Philip Tirota, John Pezuola, Henry Pezuola, Joseph Romano, Richard Romeo, Patsy Colucci, Orlando Pozzoli, and Dominic Samato, all of troop 3 (19).

Star scouts were Anthony Livorno, Richard Perrot, and Patsy Velze, also all of 3 (19). Richard Kaneviger and Wilbur Nelson, both of troop 1 (48), became Eagle scouts, while Wilbur Nelson also was appointed Junior Assistant scoutmaster.

Eighty-seven merit badges were given out to 19 boys by the chairman and his assistants.

Police Action In Students' Dispute

Step Into Dispute Which Resulted In Crowd Of Several Hundred

Gathering
Chief of police Robert D. Hanna and Acting Lieut. Grover Syling were required to enter into a high school students dispute yesterday in East Washington street near city hall where several hundred students and others assembled as a result of a students' dispute which had its inception Friday night when ushers refused to admit friends of one student to the student section to which they were not entitled, police report.

Since then there has been trouble daily between this youth and his friends and the ushers and their friends. School authorities have had to call police to quell alleged disturbances which followed dismissal of school during the past several days. The trouble came to a climax yesterday near city hall.

Chief Hanna and Acting Lieutenant Syling ordered one of the prime movers in the argument into police headquarters today. He was taken before Mayor John F. Haven this morning. Being 17 years old he was not recorded as arrested.

After the mayor had talked to the youth he admitted he was wrong, exhibited the proper attitude and agreed to mind his own business in the future and the mayor sent him home.

Ballots From Dead Soldiers To Count

HARRISBURG, Oct. 11.—(INS)—Gov. Edward Martin announced today that Attorney General James H. Duff had ruled that ballots of Pennsylvania soldiers killed in action should be counted "even if they happen to die before the time fixed by the act of assembly for counting soldier ballots."

The chief executive's statement followed a charge by Democratic State Committee Chairman David L. Lawrence that the justice department was "searching for technicalities by which military ballots might be invalidated."

Lawrence said "we've had complaints from all over the state, the election boards want to know what the answer is."

Governor Martin said the attorney general's decision "was released to settle once and for all the controversy that has been raging for the past few days as to whether the ballot of a soldier who has died after it has been cast can be counted."

Philippine Head Leaves Washington

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(INS)—Officials of the Philippine Commonwealth disclosed today that President Sergio Osmeña has left Washington and it was presumed he will soon appear at the headquarters of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

MacArthur will spearhead the invasion of the Philippines and when Osmeña took the oath of office as president last August he said that he intended to go back to the Pacific and take part in the liberation of his homeland.

Cpl. Donald Martin Seriously Wounded

Mt. Jackson Soldier Flown To England For Treatment In Hospital After Suffering Wounds

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Martin, of Mt. Jackson, received a telegram from the War Department, Sunday, apprising them of the fact that their son, Cpl. Donald V. Martin, had been seriously wounded in action in Luxembourg, on September 20.

He was flown back to England in an ambulance plane, and according to a letter received from him yesterday, he states that he is recovering in a U. S. Army hospital there. The nature of his wounds was not disclosed.

He entered the service on December 14, 1942 and trained at Camp Haan, Calif. He went overseas to England in July 1943 and went into action in France with the anti-aircraft of the First Army in July 1944.

BRIEF NEWS
OVER STATE

(International News Service)

DUBLIN—George Landis and his family were ready to resume house-keeping after a small army of neighbors helped gather lumber blown from the dwelling during a rainstorm. Twelve persons replaced the roof in an afternoon.

DOYLESTOWN—The improvement of recreational facilities has been considered by Doylestown citizens for a memorial to service men and women. Tentative plans for the construction of necessary buildings were made by the Veterans of Foreign Wars last year.

CHESTER—The Chester City Council claims it was faced with a problem that a taxpayer wandered in and demanded to see President Roosevelt. The all-Republican council recommended Washington, D. C., but offered no guarantee.

HONESDALE—Dr. L. W. Spencer, local dentist, proved he could pull a gun trigger as well as a tooth when he brought down a 1300-pound moose in Canada. The antler spread was 64 inches.

MANHEIM—The yearly rent of the Zion Lutheran church was paid with one red rose. The custom was established in 1772 by Baron William Henry Stiegel, a Colonial glass manufacturer, who deeded the plot and stipulated the rental.

PHILADELPHIA—Marine Capt. George M. Harding, a Marine corps artist, was "stateside" again after two years in the Pacific with a portfolio of some 400 water color and crayon sketches. Official artist with the A.A.F. in World War I, Harding took in every important battle zone from Australia to Saipan in this war.

CHESTER—The best volunteer fire department in the world is a prevention-minded public, stated Mayor Ralph F. Swarts in a Fire Prevention Week proclamation.

NORRISTOWN—A hypnosis demonstration in a high school auditorium was brought to a quick end when the audience of 32 students became victims. The demonstrator, who had his back to them, blamed the backfiring spell on "mass hysteria" and tension.

DOYLESTOWN—Bucks county commissioners have found out that while the town hall pigeons cannot turn back the tower clock at least they can slow it down merely by perching on the hands. The commissioners solemnly convened and had a clock expert advise them to screen the clock's face.

Don't Get It Wrong; Navy Quartermaster Not Supply Officer

Maybe you are as confused as at least one reporter was by the title "quartermaster" as applied to the navy. Army use of the term, meaning supply officer, isn't at all what the navy means, and George Winter, quartermaster 3-0, explains why.

It seems that in the days of old windjammers, the after one-fourth, or quarter of the deck was where the wheel was located, and, therefore, the man at the wheel was the master of that quarter. Now a quartermaster is assistant to the navigator, helping out with charts, signaling, taking bearings, and so forth.

Quartermaster Winter finds that, since he was in the clothing business before entering the navy, unlighted persons are only too quick to jump to the conclusion that he is a "storekeeper." Stationed at Shoremaker, Calif., Winter is now home on a 15-day leave, visiting his family at 318 Englewood avenue. He expects to be assigned to sea duty on his return.

Sgt. William Tanner Receives Air Medal

Sgt. William G. Tanner, 18-year-old local boy, has been awarded the Air Medal for his work as an aerial gunner on a B-24 Liberator bomber based in Italy.

His excellent work on missions over German rail, industrial, and oil centers throughout southern Europe and the Balkans won him the citation, Sergeant Tanner, who lives on R.F.D. 1, has been in service since last November.

Could Cleopatra Drink a Pearl With Stomach Ulcer Pains?

An intriguing story of Cleopatra is the one where an admirer praised the beauty of two of her pearls. Whereupon she dropped one into a glass of wine and drank it. She would hardly have done this had she suffered after-eating pains. No Further Word Of Lt. T. A. Murphy

Parents Informed Young Paratrooper Still Missing Over France Since June 6

In a letter from Colonel Roy E. Lindquist, U. S. infantry, Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Murphy of 416 Winter avenue, were notified that no further news has been received of their only son, Lieut. Thomas A. Murphy, who has been reported missing in action since June 6, in Normandy, France.

Lieut. Murphy has been in the service two years this past July, and served overseas for over a year. He was wounded on the Anzio beach, receiving the medal of the Purple Heart, and also served in Italy.

The following is the letter:

Dear Mr. Murphy:

You have been informed that your son, Lieut. Thomas A. Murphy, who went into action with the regiment against the enemy in Normandy, France, during the recent invasion of the continent, is missing. As long as this report is not changed, we all hold to the hope that he may yet return. You may find some measure of comfort in the knowledge that your son is a soldier, a hero who has performed his duty as only a paratrooper can for his regiment and his country.

This regiment has been awarded the Presidential Citation for "extraordinary heroism and outstanding performance of duty against the enemy in Normandy, France, June 6, 1944." In every action there, without exception, conducted themselves in such a manner that our battle accomplishments will go down in military history as outstanding and extraordinary. You can well be proud of your son's participation and performance as a soldier, for it was only through fighting soldiers such as he that the breaching and penetration of the defenses of the continent were possible.

In closing may I repeat that the regiment joins you in your hopes and prayers for the well being and safe return of your son. If I can be of any assistance to you in the future please feel free to write to me.

Sincerely,
ROY E. LINDQUIST,
Col. Infantry.

The new merchant ships built in 1943 and 1944, will require a minimum of 145,000 seamen and 35,000 officers to man them. As of January 1, 1944, the U. S. Maritime Service has trained more than 71,000 men.

Milk Mixture For Stomach Ulcers

A recent medical discovery now being used by doctors and hospitals everywhere has proven unusually successful in the treatment of stomach ulcers caused by excess acid. It is a harmless preparation set so effective that in many cases the pains of stomach ulcers disappear almost immediately after it is used. Also recommended for ease of pain, indigestion and heartburn due to acidity. Sufferers may now try this at home by obtaining a bottle of Lurin from their druggist. Lurin is the new discovery in its purest form. Easy to take. The mix two teaspoonsful in a half glass of milk. Costs but little. Try a lot. If it must satisfy or money refunded. Lurin for sale by Eckerd's and Drug Stores everywhere.

Some Improvement In Christmas Toys

Parents Begin Christmas Shopping For Wagons With Better Wheels, And Walking Monkeys

It's not only overseas Christmas presents that are being bought now, the toy-sellers say. More than one doll and wooden wagon have been taken home to wait until Christmas Eve.

Last year's experience of not-so-many toys, and not-so-nice ones at that has sent many parents out earlier than ever this year, to make sure that Santa Claus leaves at least a few attractive toys scattered under the tree.

Wagons, for one thing, are going to be much nicer this year, the stores have found. While all of them have wooden wheels, some of them have synthetic rubber tires, and some have steel in the axles. Walking toys have multiplied since last year, according to one manager whose store is offering walking dogs, dolls and monkeys.

War will be in the toy counters more than ever this year, with wooden invasion barges, bomb sights, and jeeps, but otherwise the stock will line up about the same as last year. Dolls have lost their luster, and few of them have eyes that move, but stuffed chenille toys is a new note. Few games are all-card-board anymore, because of the paper shortage, but even then, the stores expect to have large enough stocks to make toyland at least a good substitute for the old days.

Twenty-Four Cases Of Paralysis Listed

HARRISBURG, Oct. 11.—(INS)—Twenty-four cases of infantile paralysis were reported during the past 24 hours, increasing the total in Pennsylvania since January 1 to 1,227, the state health department said today.

The department listed 10 new cases in Philadelphia, boosting the county total to 232 while the remaining 14 cases were scattered over seven other counties. Only Forest, Juniata, Snyder and Union counties were unaffected by the disease.

Ration Stamps

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 11.—(INS)—At least one employee in the Camden district OPA office was reported under investigation today following the discovery of the theft of ration stamps for more than half a million gallons of gasoline.

The thefts, which occurred between April and September, were uncovered by special OPA agents from New York and Washington. T. Harold Dempsey, district director, asserted he had "no information on the case at all."

According to reports, the stamps had been previously used by motorists and turned back to the OPA. It was believed that an employee in the office then sold them to black market operators.

Sportsmen Hold Meeting Tuesday

Decide to Have Recording Secretary, Present Shells, Erect Safety Signs

Several hundred members of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's association attended the October meeting in Neshaunock post 315, V.F.W. last night where it was voted to change the by-laws creating an office of recording secretary who will be elected in January.

Rev. D. L. Ferguson, Captain Bill Ferver and J. P. Allen were named a nominating committee. They will report next month and the nominations in January will be made from the floor.

Some members were awarded shotgun and rifle shells last night.

Game Warden Frank Coen reported small game plentiful.

The association said they had safety signs which the association would have erected on the property of any farmer who desire them.

They are usually placed near barns and other places where farmers may be at work. All a farmer need do to secure the signs is to request them either personally or by writing to H. N. Drio of the association or the game protector.

Motion pictures were displayed by Clayton Hoffmeister and Milton Patterson of Union township high school.

Staff Sgt. Louis Back In States

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(INS)—Staff Sgt. Joe Louis, heavyweight champion, arrived in town Tuesday after a flight from Europe.

He said he had fought 96 exhibitions in seven months overseas and believed that two of the army boys he boxed in Italy might give him real competition after the war. Joe couldn't remember the names of the two worthwhile boxers.

Y Swimmers In National Contest

Local Swimmers Will Attempt To Swim Distance Equal To Length Of Mississippi River

For the seventh year the Annual "Down The Mississippi" River Swim Contest will be conducted by the Chicago Y. M. C. A. for all Association members who have entered the New Castle Association. All members both men and boys as well as men in the armed forces who visit New Castle may participate in this National Contest. The contest consists of a 1600 mile swim from the Twin Cities down the Mississippi river to New Orleans. Every 60th length of the pool at the Y will be credited to the local Association score.

The contest will begin October 16 and continue for twelve days to October 28, Sunday October 22 not included.

Tom Jones has been named by Mr. Baptiste as Chairman and coach for the New Castle Y teams. All men and boys who are members of the local Association and interested in swimming are urged to sign up for the contest. Every length will add to the score for New Castle Y.

Students Collect Two Million Cans During September

HARRISBURG, Oct. 11.—(INS)—The State Defense Council's salvage committee reported today that pupils in 560 Pennsylvania schools collected 2,933,161 tin cans during September and said a goal of ten million cans had been fixed for October.

"Tin today ranks with paper as the number one critical war material and we have asked the full cooperation of every school," said Secretary Colley S. Baker. "Housewives throughout the state are asked to prepare their cans and give them to the school children for collection."

Baker said that a $75 war bond was awarded to Robert Readinger of Porter Township High school in Schuylkill county, for collecting 30,235 cans while Clarence Bausum of Pottsville, who gathered 12,000 cans, was given a $50 bond.

Berks county schools were cited for collecting 231,733 tin cans last month, Baker added.

Frank R. Fish, chairman of school salvage in the department of public instruction, also announced 41 institutions were awarded salvage pennants for the greatest per pupil September collections.

Seven Schools Form Tri-County League

Permanent Organization Effected At Ellwood City; Chandler McMillan President

FOOTBALL TITLE TO BE DECLARED

Seven class B high schools last night at a meeting in Ellwood City organized permanently a tri-county athletic league with Chandler B. McMillan, principal of Bessemer High, as first president. Edwin L. Anderson of Evans City is vice-president and Milton A. Pattison, principal of Union, is secretary and treasurer.

The purpose of the league is to promote better feeling and sportsmanship among the class B schools and to help each other arrange attractive football, basketball and track cards. There is a possibility of enlarging the league to include New Wilmington, Mercer and Slippery Rock.

Will Declare Champions

A football championship can be declared this year going to the way the schedules have been arranged. Bessemer, Zelenople and Mars have a chance to become champions in the league's first year. All three teams have won two league games and are undefeated to date.

Secretary Pattison gave out the following standing of the league to date in football:

	W.	L.	T.
Union	0	2	1
Evans City	0	2	1
Shenango	0	2	0

Games This Week

Union at Zelenople, Friday, 2:30.
Shenango at Evans City, Saturday, 2:30.

Games To Play In League

Bessemer-Zelenople and Shenango.
Zelenople-Bessemer, Union, Mars, Evans City.

Mars-Evans City and Zelenople. Evans City-Shenango, Mars and Evans City.

Union-Shenango and Zelenople. Shenango-Evans City, Union, Bessemer.

The seven charter member schools are Bessemer, Union, Shenango, Wampum, Mars, Evans City and Zelenople. An entry fee of $5 from each school gives the league a working capital of $35 for a starter.

The league idea among the class B schools is an excellent one and should help to create a lot of fine contests and championship playoffs at the end of the football, basketball and track seasons. There is a possibility of the schools after the war taking up baseball.

Marion And Doerr Named By Writers

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 11.—(INS)—The most valuable players of the National and American leagues in 1944 were Martin Marion, shortstop of the world's champion St. Louis Cardinals, and Bobby Doerr, former Boston Red Sox second baseman, respectively, in the opinion today of the Sporting News.

The Sporting News, national baseball weekly, credited Marion with being the dominant factor in the Cardinals' drive to the National league pennant. Of Doerr, who left the Red Sox to join the armed services, the News declared:

"The Red Sox remained contenders for the pennant until Doerr's departure. But the hole he left could not be filled and the team slipped back."

Pitchers Hal Newhouser of the Detroit Tigers and Bill Voiselle of the New York Giants were designated by the weekly for a special merit award since pitchers seldom qualify as the most valuable player because of the small number of games they work.

CHURCH GOLFERS DINE THURSDAY

First Presbyterian Church Basement To Be Scene Of 1944 League Banquet

New Castle church golfers will gather in the basement of the First Presbyterian church on Thursday evening for a banquet and to honor the Highland U. P. team, league champion. The dinner is slated to get under way at 6 o'clock. "No speaking program has been arranged, but we will elect officers for the 1945 season," said Dave Aston, president of the league in speaking of the dinner today. Rev. J. J. McIlwaine will be present and deliver the blessing and will probably be called on for a speech, Aston indicated.

Upwards of 60 or 75 men will gather around the festive boards, it was announced. Ladies of the First Presbyterian church are cooking and preparing the dinner.

The First Presbyterian church is located at the corner of Falls and North Jefferson street.

Army-Navy Game In Philadelphia

Strong Protest From Fans Causes Switch From Annapolis To Philadelphia Stadium

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(INS)—The Army-Navy football game, scheduled to be played at Annapolis, Md., December 2, will be transferred to the municipal stadium in Philadelphia, according to an exclusive story in the Bayonne, N. J., Times today.

Public pressure, says the Times, forced the authorities to change the site of the game from the navy's home field, where only a comparative handful could see it, to the huge stadium in Philadelphia which can seat more than 100,000.

There was a storm of protest throughout the country when it was announced that the game could be held in Philadelphia, where it has been played so often in the past, without any more interruption of war effort than if it were held in Maryland.

Moreover, the annual classic would draw at least $300,000 more in Philadelphia than it would at Annapolis.

More football fans want to see the game this year than ever before because both service teams are rated among the strongest in the nation and it may be that the mythical title may hinge on the classic this time.

Mattioli Is Lost To Pitt Panthers

Veteran Guard Found To Have Fractured Vertebra In Back In Bethany Game

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 11.—(INS)—Pitt guard Francis Mattioli will be lost to the Panthers for the remainder of the season, it was disclosed today, because of a back injury he suffered in Saturday's tilt with Bethany.

Mattioli had been with the Panthers for four years, three of them as a first stringer. Doctors said X-rays showed the grider suffered a fractured vertebra.

Junior Hi Teams Away From Home

Washington Will Play At Sharon; Franklin At Ellwood City Thursday

Both of the New Castle junior high football teams will be away from home Thursday for grid battles.

George Washington goes to Sharon and Franklin travel to Ellwood City for a battle. Both local high teams are undefeated in play to date.

Grooms Secretary

O'Connor, a courteous man who has been Landis' efficient secretary since he took over the commission-ership some 23 years ago, represented the judge during the recent obsequies in St. Louis, which saw all that seemed mortal of the Browns decently interred by the rival Cardinals in the sixth and final game of the world series. It was a world series like none other that has ever been held in several respects, one of which was especially noticeable.

No matter what decision was rendered, whether farcical or eminently fair, the members of both clubs were clearly prepared to accept it with sedate and amiable calm.

Baltimore Leads In Little Series

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 11.—(INS)—The Baltimore Orioles held a 3-2 edge over the Louisville Colonels today in the little world series championship race after shutting out the Kentuckians 10-0, before 19,463 fans last night in the Baltimore stadium.

By holding the American Association pennant winners scoreless, Ed Embree, star hurler for the International league champs, repeated his feat of last week when he pitched the Orioles to a 11-0 shut-out over the Colonels.

Embree permitted Louisville only four hits, while the Orioles got 22 of Kentucky's pitchers Wilson Johnson and Diehl.

The series will continue tonight in Baltimore.

Walls Out Of Farrell Game

New Castle Loses Fullback Due To Knee Injury, Farrell Strong Team

New Castle high football team already crippled by the recent injury to Buz Panella, the fleet left-half, has suffered another serious loss in the injury of Bill Walls, 160, the colored fullback who will be out of the Farrell game with an injured knee.

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh has delegated Jim Garberry, 175, the big left end to try his hand at fullbacking and he may start at that spot in the Farrell game Friday. John Benigas the right-half may also be shifted to fullback it was intimated. The halfbacks will probably be Sammy Flora and Chuck Sallee. Although shaken up in the Altoona game will be at quarterback.

Farrell Strong Eleven

Farrell has been coming along nicely since losing to Erie Academy and Ellwood City, and have defeated Sharpville and Erie Strong Vincent, one of the best teams in Erie. Coach Hank Day can be expected to shoot the works here Friday night. Farrell has never defeated New Castle in football. They would like to do it this season.

Bridenbaugh indicated today that he would probably start Eddie Jackson and Pete Stack at the ends in the Farrell game, with the rest of the line just about as it was in the Altoona game with First and Williams the tackles, and "Blondie" Stewart and "Pug" Hill at the guards. Joe Kulins will be at center.

Freddie Wimer, the regular left end who has been out all year with a bad leg injured in training camp is being missed. Thus New Castle with Wimer, Panella and Walls out of commission face a tough road from here out.

Landis Getting Ready To Retire

Judge Landis Believed Grooming Secretary Leslie O'Connor For Job

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—There will be denials of this story but, according to advices that are ordinarily reliable and valid, we can feel free to make two statements today with some degree of assurance. Judge K. M. Landis, 64, and flattered as the $55,000-a-year commissioner of baseball is planning an earlier retirement from office, because he finds an active stewardship of this multi-million dollar enterprise too taxing for his constitution which is frail at best.

That's the first statement, and the second is he's "grooming," as our informant chose to put it, Leslie M. O'Connor as his successor.

This latter, no doubt, will come as a shock to the many gentlemen, either qualified or merely presumptuous, who have coveted the position quite these several years.

O'Connor, a courteous man who has been Landis' efficient secretary since he took over the commission-ership some 23 years ago, represented the judge during the recent obsequies in St. Louis, which saw all that seemed mortal of the Browns decently interred by the rival Cardinals in the sixth and final game of the world series. It was a world series like none other that has ever been held in several respects, one of which was especially noticeable.

No matter what decision was rendered, whether farcical or eminently fair, the members of both clubs were clearly prepared to accept it with sedate and amiable calm.

"HEY, MOM, where did you put my huntin' coat? Where are my tog boots? Do you remember where YOU laid those shells I had left over from last year?" "Gracious sake, Bill, don't you remember anything from last year? You know I don't wear your coat or boots and I'm sure I never saw your shells." That chit-chat heard daily this week in many homes where Mom and Pop are huntin' through the attic cellar and elsewhere for everything but his shotgun. Pop knows where that is. He cleaned it, laid it away months ago but at frequent intervals took it out of its bag and went over it because—Well, folks, as the mar who advertised that certain brand of cereal remarked: "There's a reason!" And there is to the foregoing verbal argument between Pop and Mom. The reason? Duck season in the intermediate zone in which Pennsylvania is located begins Saturday and ends at sunset January 1! There are many local duck hunters hereabouts and a lot of 'em are getting "trigger happy" as Saturday approaches.

While this year's daily bag limit remains at 10, an additional bag of five mallards, widgeons or pin-tails or any combination of these ducks may be taken. At the end of the day he (and there may be some she's) may have 15 in his possession. The black duck is not a mallard. Only one wood duck may be included in the bag and only one may be in possession of the hunter at any time though you are permitted to take one wood duck daily. This year you may take a full daily bag of 10 canvas-backs, 1 redheads or 10 buffle-heads but not more than 10 in the aggregate of the three kinds in any one day. The duck possession limit is placed at 20 but in addition you may possess 10 mallards, widgeons or pin-tails, singly or in combination. Thus a hunter may actually legally possess 30 ducks best of all in the simulated species at any time during the season after the first day of hunting. The foregoing applies to the Intermediate zone. The season for the northern zone started September 30 through December 8 and the southern zone lasts from November 2 through January 20.

Fair Or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 11.—Although the contending clubs in the world series received an aggregate of only $108,900 from the receipts due to war donations, the players themselves cost the two clubs much less than that, probably setting a new all-time low for the price of world series personnel. Except when outfielder Danney Litwiler was on the field, there wasn't a man in the game who stood his club more than $500. Most of them cost much less.

Litwiler came to the Cardinals from the Phils in exchange for Buster Adams, Coaker Triplett and Dain Clay, and that made him something of a gem in the series. The Cards got Pitcher Mort Cooper for $150 and he later on brought brother Walker Cooper, the catcher, to camp for the cost of a round trip ticket. The return stub wasn't used.

Coopers Worth Plenty
When the Coopers were on the Cardinal farm at Columbus, owner Horace Stenham of the Giants offered $150,000 for the two of them and was turned down. They now are the outstanding brother battery in the history of the majors and Mort himself would be worth more than that in these times.

The entire Cardinal team, except for Litwiler is a product of the Cardinal chain gang. Several of the team's best players are in the services and there are veritable herds of good rookies about ripe for the plucking when the war is over.

The Browns also fielded an aggregation of players picked up here and there at little expense. However, they showed it in the world series. The Cardinals looked more like a team developed for a purpose.

The Browns' catcher Red Hargrove was a Browne development. Don Gutteridge, the second baseman, was obtained on waivers; Pitcher Sig Jakucki was obtained through the mails in reply to a

STOCK MARKET IS IRREGULAR

Sporadic Attempts At Recovery Are Made During Morning Trading Hours

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(INS)—The stock market made sporadic attempts at recovery today, continuing the upturn that set in late yesterday. This buying was felt in almost all sections of the list but was somewhat tied down by the holiday coming up tomorrow.

Volume ran at the low level of recent sessions. While such leading stocks as Douglas, Pennsylvania Railroad and Chrysler were higher, DuPont, Anaconda, Johns-Manville and Radio Corp. were lower.

Utilities as a group tended to higher prices, with United Corp. and Columbia Gas & Electric at better levels.

Curb prices were unchanged to higher. Bonds were firm.

Unidentified Man Falls Under Train

(BULLETIN)

At 1:10 o'clock this afternoon a man, who has not yet been identified, attempted to board a west-bound freight train, No. 7303, on the B. and O. railroad at the B and O station in the Seventh Ward and slipped and fell under the wheels.

An ambulance was summoned and he was removed to the New Castle hospital, where it was stated that amputation of both legs would likely result.

Body Of Willkie Taken To Indiana

Widow Turns Down Offer To Have Willkie Buried In Arlington Cemetery

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(INS)—The body of Wendell Willkie was on its way to Rushville, Ind., for burial today as it was disclosed that the federal government, through Secretary of War Henry Stimson's office, had offered a suggestion that Willkie be buried in the National Cemetery at Arlington, Va.

Willkie's wife, gracefully declined the proffered honor, however, preferring that her husband be interred in the grave-yard of the little Indiana town where he got his start in life.

The body was placed aboard the Spirit of St. Louis railroad flyer following services attended by hundreds of national figures in New York yesterday while a throng of 35,000 stood silently outside the church.

TWO FIRE CALLS ARE ANSWERED

City firemen answered two calls in the last 24 hours, one of which was false, Chief James E. Thomas reports.

At 9:45 o'clock Tuesday night, an alarm was sounded from Box 41 at Ray and Oak streets, but no fire could be found in the vicinity.

At 8:15 o'clock this morning, firemen were called to the Union Brewing company where they found grease and oil burning about the engine of a truck, caused by backfire from the carburetor. There was no material damage.

SPEAKS AT DINNER FOR CPL. OTHITES

Among those who spoke at the Pennsylvania Power company steam plant dinner honoring Cpl. John M. Othites, U. S. Marine Corps, on Monday evening was L. B. Round, vice president and general manager of the Pennsylvania Power company.

The dinner was held in the Diaz hall, West Pittsburgh, with approximately 50 persons in attendance. The dinner honored a local Marine, and hero of four major battles of the Southwest Pacific.

Financial Condition Of Local Governments Is Best In 15 Years

Treasury Surpluses Pile Up Because Of Wartime Curtailment
Of Construction

HARRISBURG, Oct. 11.—(INS)—The Department of Internal Affairs reported today that Pennsylvania's 2500 local governments were enjoying the best financial conditions in 15 years and planned post-war projects costing approximately $560,000,000.

Dr. H. F. Alderfer, director of the Bureau of Municipal Affairs, said many municipalities had built up reserve funds while some were liquidating debts.

He explained treasury surpluses had accumulated due to the wartime curtailment of maintenance work and deferral of construction. Increased payments of delinquent taxes and a more uniform collection of current levies coupled with curtailed expenditures also helped to swell the reserves.

In addition, tax millages have generally kept up to pre-war levels because of wartime prosperity, Alderfer said.

"In 1943 local governments in Pennsylvania built up almost five million dollars of surpluses either for their reserve funds or by buying United States securities," he declared. "Much greater amounts can be expected to be reported for 1944."

Of the 560 million dollars earmarked for future construction, 500 million belonged to civic governments and the rest to the state's 67 counties, Alderfer said.

He said "only about 4 per cent of the plans for peacetime building and improvements were already completed and ready to go with money provided in advance."

Most of the completed plans so far were concentrated in the largest industrial cities, he asserted. Alderfer emphasized that local reserves could not be tapped for six months after the end of hostilities, under a law enacted by the 1943 legislature permitting communities to set aside surpluses.

Canteen Course To Open Friday

First Class Of Red Cross Canteen
Course Will Be Held At Y.W.C.A.

On Friday evening, October 13, the Canteen course of the Red Cross will have its opening class at 7:30 in the green room of the Y.W.C.A. Mrs. William Cosel, chairman of nutrition for the Lawrence county chapter of the Red Cross, reminded today.

Miss Helen Florence Vernon of the Manufacturers Light and Heat company, who is a certified Red Cross instructor, will teach the course.

Every person who has completed the standard nutrition course of the Red Cross is eligible to enroll for the canteen course.

Quantity cooking, emergency mass feeding, and sanitation, are some of the subjects that will be taken up during the 20-hour course. Members of the class will have an opportunity to take part in practical demonstration.

Registration is also open now for a nutrition course at the Red Cross chapter house.

Both courses will consist of 10 lessons of two hours each.

Lt. Jaxtheimer Receives D.F.C.

First Lieut. William Adam Jaxtheimer has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for extraordinary achievement while serving with distinction as pilot of a B-24 bomber on many special missions over enemy-occupied Europe, according to an announcement by Lt. Gen. Doolittle, commanding general of the Eighth AAF.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Jaxtheimer of Transfer, Lieutenant Jaxtheimer is a graduate of New Castle-High school, class of 1937. He is first pilot on one of the AAF's big B-24 Liberators operating from a composite station in England.

Besides his D.F.C., the lieutenant wears the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters, and has two Bronze stars in his European Theater of Operations service ribbon.

Clothing Shipped To Bombed Areas

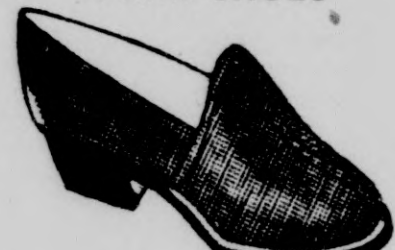

Approximately one ton of assorted clothing has been shipped as the first consignment of the campaign now on to assist people in the bombed areas of England and Wales.

L. J. Lewis, the local representative of the British War Relief society, was much pleased with the quality of the clothing shipped.

The committee is prepared to receive further donations during this week. Mrs. Carl Turner and Mrs. Rachel Long, together with the pastor, Rev. Thomas J. Jones, will be on hand at the First Congregational church, headquarters for the collection, to receive the clothing.

Highways, As Usual, Are Winter Problem

Ashes And Snow Fences Will Be Out In Several Weeks, And Snow Plows Are Ready

While you're having your winter coat cleaned and pulling your sweaters out of moth balls, the highway department is getting things in order for winter, too.

There will be the usual cinders for icy roads and snow fences and plows for any blizzards that might come along. The fences, still rolled up as they have been all summer, can not be put up, according to law, until the first of November, says Edwin O. Reed, superintendent of the highway department.

Some stock piles of ashes, left over from last year are still placed around at the different locations

VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF

In the action brought by J. Murdoch French of Allegheny county against Norman Fisher, as the result of an automobile accident on the Butler-road near Rose Point on January 31, 1944, a verdict in favor of French in the sum of $440.27 was returned by a jury in civil court Tuesday. The case was tried before Judge W. Walter Brahm.

Another damage suit arising over an automobile accident was tried immediately afterwards, the case being sent to the jury at the noon hour. It was the action of Elsie J. Stanley and Frank M. Stanley vs. Forrest Henry, resulting from a collision at the intersection of Cunningham avenue and East Lutton street back in 1942.

Also on trial was the suit brought by Andrew Plahies against Ralph Heller, in an action in assumpsit. This grew out of a dispute over the remodeling of a house on Sempron street. A balance is claimed by the plaintiff for the work done. This case was before Judge John G. Lamore.
